Miracle Manor area may seek police aide unit

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The possibility of establishing a volunteer "police department" in the Miracle Manor area north of Granite City was discussed Monday night during the Nameoki Township Board of Auditors meeting and the board pledged its support for such a unit, should one be established.

Joseph Garcia, a precinct committeeman for the Miracle Manor area, told the board that several young men interested in volunteering their time to aid in law enforcement have contacted him.

They have asked how they could establish a police unit similar to one being reactivated in State Park Place, also in Nameoki Township.

The State Park Place unit, which is expected to resume activities Oct. 11, is comprised of about 12 men who have received "supervisor of safety" commissions under the control of the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

The Nameoki Township Board of Auditors assisted the State Park group in getting established by providing $9,500 of federal revenue sharing money to purchase a police car and uniforms.

The auditors agreed Monday night to seek bids on a "police package" car, a police radio and 10 complete uniforms, the bids to be received at the Town Hall by 5 p.m. Sept. 22. The bid proposals will be considered by the board that night.

Joseph Boyer, a spokesman for the State Park police unit told the board Monday night that his department is ready to cooperate in any way with Miracle Manor residents in

$800,000 bonds; no tax boost

The Madison Board of Education at a special meeting last night passed a resolution officially calling for an election to issue bonds for a new junior high school on Saturday, Sept. 27, and set the amount of the bond issue at $800,000.

There would be no raise in taxes due to the new school bonds, according to John Calvo, superintendent of schools; taxes now paid on Blair

Calvo is new judge

Horace L. Calvo, 48, local attorney and state representative, received today an order from the Illinois Supreme Court appointing him, effective Monday, Sept. 22, as a Circuit Judge in the Third Judicial Circuit, replacing Judge Fred P. Schuman, who retired this month.

"I was happy to receive the appointment and I am looking forward to serving the people of the area in this new position," Calvo said.

"Chief Judge Joseph Barr has informed me that, to begin with, I will be working on civil cases in the Granite City area."

"I have submitted my resignation to the General Assembly, effective Sept. 21. I have enjoyed serving as a representative from this area," he commented.

Calvo has been a Democratic state representative since January 1969.

Weather outlook for this region

Several periods of thunderstorms likely, with high temperature of 80. Rain ending tonight, when wind will shift from southwest at 10 miles hour to 15-20 miles from northwest. Low tonight dropping to 50. Clear and much cooler Friday, with high of about 68. Saturday through Monday — clear to partly cloudy. Little precipitation likely. Lows in 50s and highs in 70s.

Bridge future still in doubt

Charles Wilson and Associates of Lansing, Mich., has sold its interest in the unused Chain of Rocks Bridge owned by City of Madison to Great American Resources, Inc. of Mason, Mich. for an undisclosed amount, Charles Wilson Sr. told the Press-Record Wednesday.

Whether the bridge will be dismantled, converted to a new use remains unsettled.

Representatives of Great American Resources are conferring with Mayor Mike Sasyk to discuss future plans for the bridge.

At Tuesday evening's City Council meeting, a request for a six-month extension of the Wilson contract for sale of the bridge was approved. Wilson himself is no longer connected with the project.

Great American gave the city a check for $10,000 as a second partial payment on the bridge. When the Wilson firm agreed to buy the bridge for $100,000 in March, the city was given $10,000 as a down payment.

Originally, the firm planned to demolish the bridge and sell the steel for scrap, but the market in that particular grade of steel dropped in price from $100 a ton to $45 a ton, later rising to $60, it was noted.

An idea already proposed,

Limit Madison truck weights

Motor trucks, tractors and trailers of more than five tons gross weight, including the weight of the vehicle and its contents, will be barred from general use of certain improved streets in Madison, under terms of an ordinance passed Tuesday evening by the Madison City Council.

Nearly all streets of the city have been resurfaced and council members said they feel that allowing heavy trucks to divide the streets would result in deterioration and destruction of the pavements, causing expensive repair and maintenance costs for the city to bear.

A truck making a specific delivery to a business firm will be allowed to do so, provided the driver is taking the most direct route to and from the place of business, it was related.

McCambridge Avenue (State Route 203) and Madison Avenue (State Route 3) are not affected, although there have been complaints from citizens about large trucks driving through other city streets to get from one state route to the other.

The streets where vehicles of more than five tons gross weight are to be prohibited are: Grand Avenue, Iowa Street, Washington, Lee and Altan avenues, Greenwood, Reynolds streets and Highland Avenue.

McCambridge Avenue from Elizabeth Street to Edwardsville Road; McNair Avenue; Farish Street from McCasland to Rhodes streets; Market, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh,

Beaten, shot fatally

Larry Wayne Smith, 33, of Apt. 2, 4024 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach was found fatally shot in the head at 11:30 p.m. Monday in the parking lot at the north end of the apartment building. Both cheek bones were broken, there was a cerebral concussion and his face had multiple bruises.

Police received three phone calls within a matter of minutes from persons indicating they had heard gunshots and screams.

Chief of Police Rosewell Bennett said, "The victim apparently had left his apartment to check out something in regard to his two vehicles, a pickup truck and an auto. When he did not return right away, his wife went to check, saw the body and screamed."

information may rest assured that their assistance will be held in the strictest of confidence," Chief Bennett said.

Mr. Smith was taken to Firms Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where he was pronounced dead.

Born in Cape Girardeau, Mo., he had resided in Granite City for five years. He was employed as a painter by the Clark Painting Co., St. Louis.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Virginia Smith; two

Downtown style shows scheduled

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

A continuous showing of fall-winter fashions in a series of free shows on three consecutive Tuesdays, plus a Friday afternoon and a "teens only" Saturday segment, is being announced this week by Downtown Granite City, Inc., a non-profit business organization dedicated to revitalizing the central area of the city as a shopping and business district.

Rudy Novik, owner-operator of Stefanie Shop and president of Downtown Granite City, Inc., said the midday shows are designed to give the career woman and the homemaker an opportunity to see the latest fall and winter fashions in an informal manner at each woman's own convenience.

Men also are being encouraged to attend, he added.

The free shows will be presented on a continuous basis at the newly redecorated Washington Theatre, starting at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Patrons may attend for a few minutes, during a short lunch break, or stay for the entire two-hour period, arriving and leaving as their personal time schedule permits, Novik said.

The remaining shows will be staged from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 23, and Tuesday, Sept. 30.

A special showing, is being arranged from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 19, for local bank employees who are usually free at that hour, and a Saturday show from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sept. 27 is planned for teenagers. The general public may attend both special shows.

Nuclear pacemaker installed

The second nuclear pacemaker implantation in the St. Louis bi-state area and the first of its particular model to be used in the Midwest, was successfully received by Mrs. Loretta Pearson, 64, of 2258 Washington Ave., it was disclosed today.

The operation was performed at St. Elizabeth Hospital by thoracic and cardiovascular surgeon Dr. Zaki A. Sheikh on Aug. 29, and the patient returned home this week.

Dr. Sheikh explained that a pacemaker has a battery that gives electrical impulses to stimulate the heartbeat. He said pacemakers in general have been in existence for approximately 15 to 30 years, and nuclear pacemakers have been in development for about the past 10 years, with wider medical usage in the past couple of years.

The first nuclear pacemaker implantation in this metropolitan area was done at Firms Desloge Hospital, a St. Louis University medical center.

Dr. Sheikh said the main difference between the nuclear pacemaker and the regularly used pacemaker is the life of the battery.

Up until now, the pacemaker battery needed to be surgically replaced every five years. He said this surgery involves a risk to the patient in two ways:

1. Because the pacemaker is a foreign body, chances of infection are present. 2. It is possible for the wire running from the pacemaker to the heart to be accidentally cut during the operation.

Dr. Sheikh explained that it is not known for certain how long the nuclear pacemaker battery will last, but it is anticipated that the battery will last from 10 to 30 years. So, when considering life expectancy, a person who is implanted with a nuclear pacemaker for this particular heart problem may never need to have another operation.

The particular model implanted in Mrs. Pearson was manufactured by the Atlantic Richfield Company (Arco). Dr. Sheikh noted that Arco has spent over $20 million in research to devise this particular pacemaker, and the Arco model has been used in New York, the Northeast, Texas and California.

The Arco Nuclear Co. says the radioactive-powered cardiac pacemaker is manufactured in ultra modern facilities specifically designed and constructed to insure that the pacemaker is of the highest possible quality and reliability.

"Extensive testing of systems and components has proven the highest degree of safety possible," an Arco spokesman said.

Dr. Sheikh, who eight years ago performed the first regular pacemaker implantation at St. Elizabeth Hospital, told the Press-Record the operation takes approximately one hour. He explained that a cut is

Impasse on light

A legal opinion by Nick D. Vassileff, attorney for Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Albert Bell, that the highway department has no obligation to pay half the cost of installation or maintenance of school crossing lights at Sixth Street and McCambridge Avenue, has halted hopes that Bell would help resolve a long-standing dispute between the township and the City of Madison.

In a letter on Jan. 22, 1969, the township supervisor at that time, Harry Briggs, pledged to Stephen Maeras, then mayor of Madison, that the township would pay half the cost of installing and maintaining the lights, if Madison would pay the other half.

Madison had the lights installed at a cost of $13,563, and nearly $5,000 has been expended in maintenance of the lights since that time.

The present Madison mayor, Mike Sasyk, has demanded that the township live up to Briggs' commitment and pay about $8,250 to fulfill half of the cost of the lights thus far; half of the lights are in the city and the other half are in the township.

At one point, Mayor Sasyk ordered the lights turned-off for a short period, but when they turned back on then Bell agreed to repair Farish Street holes, another point of disagreement between the two governmental units.

Vassileff's opinion, read at Monday night's Nameoki Town Board of Auditors meeting, Sept. 8, said that the township has no legal obligation to pay half the cost of the crossing lights.

The township government and the township highway department are two separate units of government, the opinion related.

Vassileff said he did not feel a highway commissioner is

Volunteer program guild topic

An outline of the volunteer service program at St. Elizabeth Hospital was presented by Mrs. Rebecca Slate, volunteer director, at a meeting of the Evening Guild at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ last week.

The newly elected president, Mrs. Bea Rittenhouse, conducted the first business session of the season after a potluck dinner.

Mrs. Annabelle Patton and Mrs. Pauline Schank gave the devotions, entitled "Of Me In My Community."

Guild members agreed to have the junior choir robes cleaned and reviewed booklets on the proposed programs and projects of the organization.

Arrangements were made to sponsor a "traveling" basket filled with home baked goods or handicraft items which will be passed along to another member. During the year those receiving the basket will enclose a donation and fill the basket for the next person. All proceeds will be used for guild projects.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Thelma Baker, Mrs. Betty Jo Bartels and Mrs. Frieda Pufalt.

Navy Mothers 850 hosts guests

Commander Margaret Minzes of the Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter 880, opened the September business meeting last week at the VFW Hall and welcomed 18 members and three guests.

Guests were from East St. Louis Chapter 601 and included Commander Adele Geiler, Katherine Merten, first vice commander, and Nellie Van Hoose, a state officer.

Members discussed participating in Charity Days, set for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 18-20, at the Namoki Village Shopping Center.

Mrs. Minzes announced a total of $560 was collected during the chapter's annual tag days. The funds have been forwarded to the Navy Mothers national headquarters for registration and will be returned to the local group for use in its activities to aid veterans.

Mrs. Minzes was named to serve on a committee to assist at the Navy Mothers convention in Belleville. A date for the event will be announced later, she said.

Mrs. Della Raab won a special prize and Mrs. Edna Miller was awarded the mystery package.

The next social meeting will be on Sept. 18 and new members are welcome to attend, according to Mrs. Minzes. For information may be obtained by calling her at 876-2850.

First Aid instructors needed

The Tri-City Chapter, American Red Cross, urgently needs volunteer instructors to conduct first aid classes, Mrs. Millie Meehan, local Red Cross executive, said this week.

Classes are provided the public without charge, upon request, she explained.

Beginning Wednesday, Sept. 17, a Multimedia First Aid course will be conducted from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Granite City Civil Defense Center, 1811 Nineteenth St.

Persons successfully completing the course will be eligible to enroll in an Instructors' Training class, scheduled on Sept. 27, Mrs. Meehan said.

Further information concerning either program may be obtained by calling the Red Cross office, at 432-7184.

County votes for new tax

Despite opposition, the Madison County Board voted 2-1 Tuesday to initiate a special two-year tax increase of 2.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation to create a "working cash fund."

Opponents argued that the county already has a contingency fund which serves the same purpose as a working cash fund—to keep money available to other funds should any fund exceed its budget.

The new two-year tax is expected to raise about $250,000 each year.

Opponents, including Louis Whitell of Nameki Township, noted that the contingency fund presently has about $250,000 in it, which he said should be sufficient for any necessary borrowing by other funds.

H. Jack Crawford of Alhambra also opposed the increase, saying "I don't see the need to burden taxpayers with this increase."

The two-year tax hike is authorized under special state legislation passed this year which increases the maximum tax rate for the general fund from 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation to 12.5 cents, for two years only.

The extra taxes will be collected in 1976 and 1977.

Coolidge closed

Coolidge Junior High School has been without electricity since Monday and had to be closed today, all the result of an electrical short-circuit in the three-phase underground electrical line which supplies the school.

Classes had to be dismissed at 12:50 p.m. Monday as the lack of electricity made it impossible to operate a pump being used to bypass a break in the school's sanitary sewer line.

Water was filling the hole bored used for the bypass pumping and officials had to have all water to the school turned off.

A local dairy loaned a refrigerated truck which was used to keep milk cold and the food fresh.

A gasoline pump was brought in service for bypass pumping, and water and sewer service were restored late Monday.

School authorities decided that sunshine would provide sufficient light to conduct classes Tuesday and Wednesday while the electrical service was being repaired.

At 7 a.m. today, they found the school was too dark due to rain clouds, and the school was closed.

Electrical repairs are being hampered by the underground line being encased in steel and concrete, making the break difficult to locate.

It is suspected a break in a steam line nearby may have forced steam into the electrical line over a period of time, causing the wires to deteriorate.

Electricians were continuing

Buy 1,006 acres for $2,158,060 to create Horseshoe Lake park

More than 1,000 acres of the scheduled Horseshoe Lake State Park has been acquired, Henry D. Karandjoff, chairman of the State Horseshoe Lake Area Commission, reported at last night's Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce board meeting.

Karandjoff, who also heads the Chamber's Horseshoe Lake Committee, conferred Tuesday in Springfield with the Illinois Department of Conservation.

As of this week, the state has acquired 1,006.79 acres, and a 598-acre parcel is in litigation. Forty-two other parcels are to be acquired to increase the park site to 3,200 acres.

The local banker related last night, "The state and federal governments have paid to the owners of the various properties $2,158,060 and there is an unspent fund of $1,666,000 on hand."

"In addition, the projected plans of the department envision construction of a $25 million building at Cahokia Mounds State Park to make the Cahokia Mounds of historical national significance for the exposition of Indian lore going back many centuries."

He added that the commission is encouraging the state to continue property acquisition for the lake park "with all possible haste."

Derailment last night
Derailment of several hopper cars on a train just northwest of the Edwardsville Road crossing south of 20th Street tied up traffic for some time, starting at 10:50 p.m. Wednesday. The Terminal Railroad Association train was hauling iron ore pellets to Granite City Steel.

Cleanup efforts were initiated as rapidly as possible and two large railroad cranes were brought to the scene to help lift derailed cars.

Four cars remained off the track this morning as workers attempted to repair twisted track while cranes held the cars suspended. About 25 workers were on the scene this morning.

The crossing was blocked a second time at 1:10 a.m. Tuesday for repair operations, but was open to cars before traffic increased this morning.

Cause of the derailment is not known. Officials said there were no injuries.

Sickle cell

responsible for carrying oxygen throughout the body.

It affects mainly black people, but whites of Mediterranean origin can all also be affected, according to De Paul Hospital authorities. American Indians and the inhabitants of South India, the Middle East and the Caribbean countries have also been afflicted with the inherited disease.

The City Councils of Venice and Madison, in cooperation with DePaul Hospital of St. Louis, Madison County Medical Association, Venice and Madison school officials and the Urban League will offer the voluntary sickle cell testing to all persons in the Madison-Venice area without charge.

During the educational phase of the program, children will be told about the disease and how the screening for it is carried out.

Actual screening takes place on another day, providing the parents of the children have given signed approval for the screening portion.

Walker comments, "I feel it is important that both black and white parents give their permission for the testing, because the test not only detects sickling in the blood but also can detect other conditions of the hemoglobin which are more common in other racial and ethnic groups."

Sickle cell anemia can be treated, but as yet there is not a cure; research is continuing. The disease causes cells in the body to change from a "normally round, flexible shape to a sickle shape, creating problems in the flow of oxygen to vital body organs."

Some of the symptoms of sickle cell anemia are: pale skin, poor appetite, fatigue and episodes of severe pain, usually in the abdomen, legs, arms and back.

These periods of pain are called "crises" and usually occur in periods of great exertion or stress.

Liberty Bell replica at 3 schools in area

As part of the U. S. Bicentennial celebration, Illinois Secretary of State Michael Howlett is sponsoring a statewide tour of an exact replica of the Liberty Bell, including stops in Granite City and Madison.

"Since schools provide a perfect forum for this display, our office, with the cooperation of district superintendents, has made arrangements to display the bell on Sept. 22 & 23," Harold E. Briggs said today. He is superintendent of the Madison County Educational Service Region.

The following time schedule and locations for displaying the Liberty Bell have been finalized:

Monday, Sept. 22 — Moiden

made in the abdominal wall and wires are screwed into the heart. The cable wires are connected to the pacemaker battery and the battery is put under the skin of the abdominal wall.

The nuclear pacemaker is government-approved by the Federal Drug Administration (FDA).

In order to be able to implant a nuclear pacemaker, a hospital must have a special license. Dr. Sheikh noted that St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City, is the only hospital on this side of the Mississippi River and south of Springfield, Ill., with such a license.

When asked how she felt about her pacemaker implantation, Mrs. Loretta Pearson, who is a volunteer in the medical records department at St. Elizabeth Hospital, said, "It's nice to know I have an opportunity to live longer. I'm anxious to get back to my volunteer work."

Hurt on Route 3

Estie Freese, 66, of 4191 Reville Lane, Pontoon Beach, was injured when his auto and the car of James Hains, 3906h Village Lane, collided at Route Three and West Pontoon Road at 9:35 p.m. Tuesday.

Freese, charged with failure to yield the right-of-way, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was admitted with a cut to the back of his head. X-rays were taken.

MOBILE HOME BURGLARY

Two men with long hair were seen forcing their way into the mobile home of Leon Podurgiel, 2711 W. 2nd St., and removing a $65 walnut coffee table at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. Entry was gained by pushing in a screen on the east side of the home.

CONDUCT CHARGES

FILED AGAINST 12 OFFICIALS requested police assistance at GCHS South at 10 a.m. Tuesday to help halt students who were allegedly running around the campus and causing a disturbance.

The group was believed to be students who were skipping their second hour classes.

Police and school authorities rounded up 12 and charged them with disorderly conduct.

Services held for Bruce Wyatt, 21

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning for Bruce Thomas Wyatt, 21, of 2424 Sheridan Ave., who was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:40 a.m. Monday.

Mr. Wyatt was found seated in his auto, parked in the 2200 block of Cleveland Boulevard. Paul play is not suspected, and the initial autopsy results failed to disclose the cause of death, a Madison County deputy coroner said today.

A resident here since only a few months old, Mr. Wyatt attended Sacred Heart School and graduated from Granite City High School.

He was employed as a dispatcher at United Disposal Service in St. Louis and was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Barbara J. Wyatt, with whom he lived; his father, Bill Wyatt of Granite City; a sister, Miss Beth Wyatt, at home; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Wyatt and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Mattingly, all of Granite City; and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

Details of the funeral are given in the obituary column.

Murder attempt charge is filed

Dale A. Hughes, 23, of 1302 Twenty-third St., has been charged with attempted murder for allegedly striking Madison County Sheriff's Deputy Larry Bull with an auto during the Mitchell Fall Festival Sunday.

Bull suffered a broken leg and is recuperating in St. Joseph's Hospital, Highland.

Hughes, injured in an auto accident on Pontoon Road at Joyce Street minutes after the Mitchell occurrence, was officially charged Monday in a warrant issued through the Madison County state's attorney's office.

Bull said he was chasing troublemakers during the festival when an auto, which had been turning in circles on the grass-covered portion of the lot, attempted to flee the scene, knocking him down and running over his left leg.

Indictment for murder

A Madison County grand jury has returned an indictment charging Gerald L. Leibold, 37, of the 5000 block of Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach, with the fatal shooting July 28 of James Lee Brandon, 27, of 1632 Maple St. The indictment charges Leibold with murder.

Mr. Brandon was found in the rear yard of his home with gunshot wounds to his forehead, neck and left upper arm. He was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Leibold, who also was shot, was found driving to the emergency room of St. Elizabeth Hospital with a gunshot wound to his upper right chest area.

It is alleged a gunfight broke out between the two men resulting in wounds to both. Leibold is recuperating from his wounds.

that will be reconsidered, is construction of a restaurant or an adjacent to the bridge. Other commercial uses also have been discussed at various times during the 1970s.

If the new company decides to demolish the bridge, the razing would not be done until next May or June.

Another factor hampering the Wilson firm was the task of obtaining necessary permits for demolition from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, U.S. Coast Guard, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the State of Illinois.

The city owns 151 acres of land near the bridge; the land was not part of the sale agreement.

chairmen during the business portion.

The second part will be the presentation of awards to numerous volunteers for their service to boys of the district throughout the year.

The District Award of Merit, formerly known as the "Scout Oscar," the highest award given by a district to a volunteer, will be presented.

Qualifications for this award are at least five years of continuous service to the Boy Scouts of America and active participation within the district on a unit, district or council level.

Scout leaders and the general public are to make recommendations, in writing, to nominate a person for the award.

The letter should give details of service and be sent to the Scout Service Center, 2016 Delmar Ave., marked to the attention of the award committee.

Dr. Layloff also announced

Chamber will install officers, hear Brann

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce will hold its 35th annual meeting and banquet at Sunset Hills Country Club Thursday, Oct. 2, at 6 p.m.

New directors and officers will be installed, and the final will be an address by Lester Brann Jr., Illinois State Chamber of Commerce president. His subject will be "Understanding the Need for Business Profits."

Members and their friends may attend, and reservations must be made through the Chamber office, 1831 Delmar Ave. (976-5400).

Tables for eight and 10 are available on early reservations for those who wish to bring a number of people from their own organizations.

Brann is the first full-time elected president of the Illinois State Chamber. He is also president of the State Chambers' Foundation.

As chief executive officer of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, he heads one of the largest organizations of its kind in the country, with over 19,000 businessmen on its membership roster and a staff of 38 men and women at the headquarters in Chicago and a branch office in Springfield.

"Due to the large increase in local Chamber membership in the past several years, and the presence of Brann, it is anticipated that this will be the largest gathering ever at an annual meeting here," a spokesman said.

Members and their guests are being requested to make early reservations through the Chamber office in order to obtain good seating.

Tennis Cougars will include Ceylon player

Coaches tend to be, in most cases, pessimistic. Coach Kent DeMars, varsity tennis coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is more optimistic than most, and tends to be to an almost four realistic line... coldly calculated and precise.

However, he has received a signed letter of intent to enroll at SIUE from a young—and apparently brilliant—prospector from Sri Lanka, formerly Ceylon, off the coast of southern India. The letter has him excited.

Arjun Fernando, the soon-to-be Cougar tennis player, does have an impressive record. Although he's just turned 19, Fernando this summer won all three senior men's tournaments in his country which will be counted toward any possible future world rankings.

He was the youngest player (then 15) to ever represent his country in Davis Cup competition.

In Davis Cup play last year against the Philippines, he won the only victory posted by his country as he beat Ramon Funtura, who was U. S. trained. He currently holds four national Sri Lanka titles: boys under 18 singles and doubles, men's under 21 singles and men's open doubles.

He owns victories, too, over B. Priyadarshi, currently the South Indian champ, who he defeated in the men's under 21 singles final in 1973. In '74, he won the men's open singles title for 21 and under in his native land.

In 1974, he reached the semifinals of the junior singles in the DOW tournament held in Amsterdam over a field of 60 international entries. He has been invited and accepted, an invitation to play in the juniors and England's Wimbledon.

Fernando is currently ranked No. 3 in men's singles although he is still under 20 years old.

Says Coach DeMars: "This young man will give us here at SIUE a great deal of depth and strengthen an already strong incoming bevy of players, including Granite City's Bill Rusick."

SURFACE IS APPLIED to SIUE tennis courts. Dick Youngman, right, plant engineering head at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, supervises the application of a latex surface to the varsity tennis courts. Six courts have been completed at SIUE.

Terry Eddleman, Spartans hoping for better year

Terry Eddleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Eddleman, 2825 Maryville Road, Granite City, will be playing football for the University of Dubuque (UD), Ia., Spartans during the 1975 football season.

Eddleman, a 6-5, 245-pound senior offensive tackle, graduated from Granite City High and played football under Coach Wayne Williams. The former Warrior is hopeful that the Spartans will show considerable improvement in their record this season.

"This is one of the finest squads I've ever coached," first-year Coach Larry Pohlman says. "They're a good bunch of football players and a good bunch of people."

In total, the University of Dubuque's football squad is comprised of 47 players, mostly from Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. Coming off a 2-8 season, the Spartans are looking forward toward their passing game and defense to move them into contention this year.

"We play an exciting brand of football," Pohlman said. "We're going to come right at our opponents." It is a young team, including many freshmen and sophomores, and Pohlman wants to build toward the future.

"We have fine upperclassmen with us, and we hope to use them to keep us in the Iowa Conference battle all year, but we also are concentrating on building a good young team," he said.

UD is comprised of a College of Liberal Arts and a Theological Seminary located on separate campuses. Located about two miles from the bluffs overlooking the Mississippi River, the college specializes in career-oriented programs within a broad liberal arts format.

Football Rascals in games Sunday

The Granite City Boys Little Rascal Tackle Football Club enters its second weekend of competition in the new season with four games on tap Sunday—two at home and two on the road.

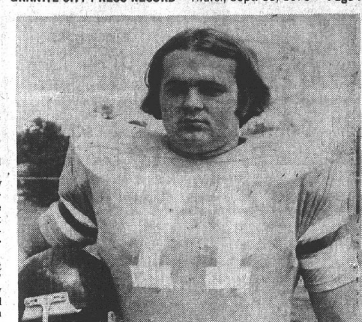

Scheduled to compete Sunday are: Junior Pee Wee vs. Belleville Devils here at 1:15 p.m.; Pee Wee North at Edwardsville at noon; Midlet North vs. O'Fallon here at 3 p.m.; and Midlet Central at Belleville Devils at 1:30 p.m.

All home games are played at the Coolidge Junior High School field near the intersection of Peeling and Nameoki Roads.

Steeler golfers beaten at Salem

A two-over-par 38 by John Pruden led host Salem to a 197-191 golfing victory over Granite City High School North's Steelers Monday at Salem Community Golf Course.

Brothers Bob and Dan Harper headed North's effort with 44 and 48, respectively. Doug Kraus shot a 49 and George Bartz a 50.

No date yet for full usage of Route 203

Dedication ceremonies for Route 203 improvements north of Granite City will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow and a ribbon will be cut, but the opening of the highway will not be opened.

Ceremonies will be at Benning Avenue and Route 203. City and state officials said Tuesday that a ribbon-cutting ceremony to open the new highway had to be planned well in advance, so a date was selected which would be close to the date the work would be completed.

It is still impossible to give a precise date when the final two of the four new lanes of the highway will be opened to the public. The contractor, Calhoun County Construction, has several small tasks yet to complete before the highway can be opened, it was explained. Numerous dignitaries are expected to attend tomorrow's dedication ceremony and offer praise for legislative efforts which made the $3,796,137 project possible. After the speeches, the ribbon will be cut. Then the banners will be removed and construction work will continue in hopes of finishing the highway, for which the contract was awarded in October 1972.

Congressional hearing on vocational education

A Congressional hearing on vocational education will be held Sept. 15 at the State Capitol in Springfield, Rep. Tim L. Hall, D-15th Dist., has announced. The day-long hearing by the House Subcommittee on Elementary, Secondary and Vocational Education will be held in Room 114 of the Capitol beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Rep. Carl Perkins, D-Ky., is chairman and Hall and Rep. Paul Simon, D-Ill., are members of the subcommittee, which has been considering amendments to the Vocational Education Act.

"It is generally agreed Illinois is the leader among the 50 states in advancing vocational education," Hall said. "The subcommittee can greatly benefit from hearing people who work daily in this important facet of education." Dr. Joseph Cronin, superintendent of the Illinois Office of Education, is expected to testify at the hearing.

Local-level educators are expected to participate as well as representatives from associations and organizations interested and active in vocational education.

Hall said vocational enrollment has increased dramatically in Illinois, attesting to the importance of such instruction.

"Vocational education no longer is regarded as the 'dumping ground' for students who, for whatever reason, do not go on to a four-year college education," Hall said.

"With its increased stature, vocational education offers young people an opportunity to enter the world of work with a marketable skill."

'South Pacific' musical play at South High auditorium Friday, Saturday nights

The Masquers will open their 1975-76 theater season with performances of "South Pacific" to be given tomorrow and Saturday at the Granite City High School South auditorium.

The show introduces a season based on Americana.

Besides its portrayal of an era of American history, the musical has special historic significance to the Masquers. Staged in Collinsville in the spring of 1962, it was the first in a long series of musicals produced by the group.

The music of "South Pacific" was composed by the famed team of Rodgers and Hammerstein.

The show includes such popular songs as "There is Nothing Like A Dame," "Kum Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair," "Bali Hai" and "Some Enchanted Evening." The Masquers' production has been designated an official Bicentennial event by the Performing Arts Committee of the Bicentennial Commission of Granite City.

Tickets available at the door, are $3 for adults, $2 for high school students and $1 for children. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. for both performances.

Granite City residents head the cast of the show, with Mrs. Beverly Scroggins as Nellie Forbush, Paul Mabrey as Emile de Beque, Mrs. Rogers Mefford as Bloody Mary, Robin Nunn as Lieutenant Joseph Cable, and Amerik Kachigian as Luther Billis.

Other Granite City residents featured in supporting roles are in the chorus.

Mrs. Scroggins comes to the role of Nellie with extensive theatrical and musical experience.

She is a speech teacher and technical director at Granite City High School South, where she also directs school plays, and she supervises the design and construction of stage scenery at both Granite City high schools.

Mrs. Scroggins has acted in summer stock theaters in Branson, Mo., and Springfield, Ill. She is also the choir director at Nameoki Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Scroggins has both directed and acted in many Masquer productions. Most recently, she has directed "Piddler on the Roof" and "Alice in Wonderland" and has acted in "Kiss Me, Kate."

Paul Mabrey, a former Granite City resident, teaches at Normandy Senior High School, Normandy, Mo. He also directs the choir at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church in Granite City.

He appeared as Tevye in the Masquers' 1974 production of "Fiddler on the Roof" and has also been involved in other Masquer shows.

Earlier this year, he appeared at the Looking Glass Playhouse in that group's production of "Godspell."

Mrs. Mefford holds both bachelor and master of music degrees in professional voice from Illinois Wesleyan University.

toured with the Norman Luboff Choir. Mrs. Mefford has served in various Masquers shows as production director, musical director, costume designer and actress.

She has received two best actress awards for performances on the Masquers stage, including one for the title role in "Mame." Later this season, she will direct the Masquers' production of "1776."

Nunn is a theater major at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He has appeared on the SIUE stage in "West Side Story" and "Taming of the Shrew" and has done technical and design work for the SIUE theater department.

He is also a third year member of the SIUE Concert Chorus.

Nunn has performed in numerous musicals with the Masquers and received a best actor nomination for his role in last season's "Butterflies Are Free."

Kachigian is a Granite City attorney and owner of Tony's Restaurant in Granite City. He has appeared on stage with the East Bank Players of Granite City. This is his first performance in a Masquers show.

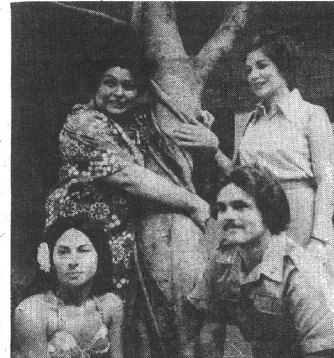

"South Pacific" is under the direction of Granite City's Mrs. Margaret Pennell. Her assistant director is Annette Tarpoll.

Elizabeth Ledbetter is the musical director.

DIRECTOR OF PLAY is Margaret Pennell (left) and the assistant director is Annette Tarpoll. "South Pacific" will be presented here tomorrow and Saturday by the Masquers as one of the fine arts events of the 1975-76 U. S. Bicentennial year observance in Granite City.

BLOODY MARY played by Rogers Mefford (holding tree) sings "Bali Hai." At the right is Beverly Scroggins, who plays Nellie Forbush in the "South Pacific" production Friday and Saturday nights at GCHS South. Kneeling are Vickie Melton, playing List, and Robin Nunn, portraying Lieutenant Cable.

MOTORIST INJURED

Mrs. Carol A. Hancock, 34, of 2025 Beckwith Ave., Madison, was treated for a pain in her left side and was released Monday from St. Elizabeth Hospital following an auto accident. She had been driving north on McCambridge Avenue and made a left turn onto Third Street. The car was swerved to avoid a camper truck and collided with a parked car belonging to Louis Sboas, 1821 Third St.

St. John worship hour time change on Saturday evenings

For the past several months, St. John United Church of Christ has been offering a Saturday evening worship service for its members and for members of the community during the 5:30-6:30 p.m. hour.

In response to numerous requests from worshippers, the pastors, the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey and the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner, are announcing that beginning this Saturday, the weekly services will begin at 5:45 p.m., 15 minutes later than the previous schedule.

Persons who find it difficult to worship on Sundays due to shift work or other obligations are invited to attend the informal Saturday evening services, they added.

Arrest 2 in tavern

David Tanner, 19, of 1718 Granite Ave., and Billy Jones, 20, of 2122 Denver St., were charged with battery after an alleged fight in Craycraft Tavern, 1034 W. 20th St., at 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Martin Craycraft, Jennings, Mo., son of the tavern owner, alleged the two were refused service at the bar and became violent. When Craycraft attempted to stop them, he alleged, they jumped on him and beat him. He was struck with a beer glass, cutting his head.

Police arrested the two at the tavern.

Downtown

Lunsford of Marilyn's House of Fashion, general chairman of the project, said a total of 120 different fashions will be presented by Downtown Granite City retailers during each two-hour segment.

Clothing fashions will include casual and sportswear, lingerie, coats, maternity, evening dress and wedding gowns, harmonizing with the latest trends in shoes, jewelry, accessories and cosmetics.

Junior, misses and half-sizes will be featured and designer originals are among the ensembles, Mrs. Lunsford said. Several merchants will set up displays in the theater lobby, exhibiting various products and services.

Each week, completely different styles will be presented, Mrs. Lunsford explained.

"No two shows will be the same and a woman can come to this Tuesday's show, stay for 30 minutes and return the following two Tuesdays and not see the same outfit twice."

"This is an ambitious project, but we believe the career girl and the homemaker who knows she can stay just as long as she wants, or has time for, will appreciate the idea," the chairman said.

"The key to the entire promotional series is offering the public an opportunity to walk into the show at their own convenience," she emphasized.

"No one has to stay for a set period of time. You can come and go as you please," she stressed.

Donald Strohmeier, planning consultant to Downtown Granite City, Inc., said 19 businesses are firmly committed to the project and are expected to join in the program before the first show on Tuesday.

To help make it easier for the working woman to attend the show during her lunch hour, a special box luncheon will be made available, costing $1 each, including a ham or cheese sandwich, potato chips and a beverage, catered by F. W. Woolworth Co.

The concession stand in the Washington Theater lobby will be operating for patrons, offering hot dogs, soda and other items, Novik said.

Valerie Evenden, Granite City Press-Record women's editor, will be commentator for the shows.

Show patrons also will be given a special ticket entitling the bearer to a ten percent discount on non-sale merchandise if redeemed on Tuesday through Thursday at a participating store, Mrs. Lunsford said.

Business firms which will display clothing fashions, include:

Boutique II by H. G. Carp's Department store; Earl's Discount Store; Leander Department store; Libson Shops; Marilyn's House of Fashion; Ruth's Store of Fashion; Schermer's Men's and Boy's Shop; Stefanie Shop; Tops N Bottoms; and Truttler's Men's Wear.

Jewelry will be furnished by the Hudson, Walker and Michel jewelry stores; shoes by Daniel's, Buente and Leander stores and cosmetics by Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio.

At the present time, Champion's Potpourri, Woolworth's, Merle Norman and Hudson jewelry are among the firms with lobby displays, Novik said.

Downtown Granite City, Inc., which recently reorganized, currently is conducting a membership drive, Strohmeier said.

All businesses within the Downtown Granite City area from 18th to 21st streets and from Cleveland Boulevard to Madison Avenue, are being contacted and encouraged to join.

Other officers of the businessmen's group are: Russ Walker and Bill Burns, vice presidents; Jim Hudson, treasurer; and Ralph Morris, secretary.

helping them set up a similar volunteer police unit.

He said he has talked to several men who wish to help establish such a department, and numerous ideas have been presented.

Boyer noted a lack of business establishments and industry in the Miracle Manor area and said this may hinder the department in obtaining funds. But "as long as you have good grassroots support from the people, you should be able to obtain sufficient funds," he remarked.

He explained that his department is supported primarily by businessmen who make contributions to the police department, but added that some of the State Park Place department's operating funds come from car washes and other community activities.

Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell said he did not feel it would be legal to try to levy a special tax in that area for police protection, and related that, when a township-wide vote was taken on a tax for additional police protection, "it was voted down flat."

Boyer said community fund-raising projects and acceptance of donations on a door-to-door basis may be the only way for a department in Miracle Manor to be funded.

The possibility of State Park Place using its car and its policemen to occasionally patrol in Miracle Manor has not been ruled out, but the residents of Miracle Manor would have to be able to offer incentives to the State Park Place unit, it was said.

Boyer said he doubts whether Madison County Sheriff John Maers would approve of such a plan, since each supervisor of safety unit must have clear boundaries.

The Miracle Manor unit, if created, would serve part of an area between Route 203 (Nameoki Road) and Maryville Road.

Planners indicated they will continue to search for ways to fund such a unit in Miracle Manor.

The Nameoki board reassured them that the township will attempt to give financial assistance if such a unit is created.

STEAL MOTORCYCLE

The 1974 red Suzuki 250 of Steve Brewer, 3120 Wayne Ave., was stolen from the yard of his home during the night, he reported at 10:50 a.m. Tuesday.

Teacher development planning is launched

The initial meeting of the Teacher Corps Project Policy Board has been held at Harris Elementary School in Madison. Dr. James Comer, professor of elementary education at SIUE and director of the Teacher Corps Project in Madison, presided.

Items on the agenda included introduction of personnel, discussion of the scope of the policy committee, a discussion of the development of programmatic subcommittees.

Members present were Barbara Madison, Donna Woodard, Sister Bernadette, Marie Hoeckstra, Vanessa Goughly, Wilber Owens, Georgia Stawar, Margaret Connel, Leonard Collier, Anne Frawley, Evelyn Ritz, Mary Whitley, Mrs. Margaret Blackhawk of the SIUE Board of Trustees, Dr. Larry Freeman, Jacques Engberg, Porter Galloway, Dr. W. Deane Wiley of SIUE, Charles McCaskill, Richard Spillers, Dr. Comer and Dr. Don Baden.

A program for teacher professional development was discussed.

Madison School District No.

12 has approximately 60 elementary teachers at the present time. Central idea of the project is to assist teachers in their professional development. The project will develop both an informal and a formal teacher development center.

The Teacher Corps, an agency of the U. S. Office of Education in Washington, has been in existence for 10 years and funds projects that tend to strengthen local-level educational endeavors.

The policy board, composed of people from the local community, functions to establish direction for the project. The board is also composed of the schools and Southern Illinois University.

Fire charge; knife threat

Mark Gages, 17, of 2640 Adams St., was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis, intoxication and unlawfully setting a fire after he allegedly poured gasoline onto a picnic table and barbecue grill in Wilson Park and set them on fire at 3:10 p.m. Monday.

Karl Chism, 19, of the 2500 block of Madison Ave., who was nearby, was charged with intoxication.

Police alleged finding a plastic bag of marijuana in Gages' left coat pocket. Gages entered no plea in court and bond was set at $1,000. He was released on his own recognizance.

Chism pleaded guilty to intoxication and was fined $25 and court costs. At 5:35 p.m. Tuesday, Karl Chism was arrested and charged with aggravated battery and disorderly conduct.

Rodney Chism, also of the 2500 block of Madison Ave., alleged Karl Chism threatened him with a knife, left, later returned and attempted to beat down a residential rear door.

Karl Chism pleaded innocent and bond was set at $250. He was released on his own recognizance.

THEFT FROM APARTMENT

A $300 vacuum cleaner, a $170 stereo and two speakers were stolen from the apartment of Debra Johnson, 2340a Grand Ave., apparently while she was asleep, she reported at 5 a.m. Wednesday.

obligated to fulfill promises by a supervisor.

Further, Vastell's opinion noted that Briggs had pledged to use motor fuel tax funds for the payment.

He noted, "Motor fuel tax funds are under the exclusive control and jurisdiction of a highway commissioner, and a township and its Board of Town Auditors cannot expend or appropriate these funds."

He continued, "Nameoki Township consequently was not then, nor is it now, in a position to expend motor fuel tax funds since said funds are to be expended by the highway commissioner, and in certain instances, subject to the approval of the county superintendent of highways."

Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell told the board that a recent meeting held between him, Bell, Sasyk and many other persons involved failed to resolve the issue pending Vastell's completing his legal opinion.

"We all agree the board can't spend motor fuel tax funds, but just saying that is not legal does not solve the problem."

"There is sufficient money in the motor fuel tax funds to pay this bill, but we cannot do it. Only Mr. Bell can do it," Whitsell noted.

He asked his attorney, H. Carl Ronge Jr., to explore other ways the town board can pay half of the cost of the lights.

Runge said he will review the issue, but noted that federal revenue sharing funds appear to be the best way, if the city will wait until the next fiscal year when town funds can be appropriated.

Both the town fund, controlled by the town board, and the special hard road fund, controlled by the highway commissioner, are expected to have surpluses at the end of the 1975-76 fiscal year large enough to pay half the cost of the lights, Whitsell said, but added he believes revenue sharing would be the most appropriate source.

He said that, after February, he may ask the town board to act for a budget hearing, and amend the revenue sharing fund to appropriate some money for forwarding to Madison to pay the township's half of the crossing light costs.

Another possibility noted was the town board's authority to transfer money from one fund to another, perhaps including road funds and special hard road funds. "It would be

Illinois Power Co. dividend for quarter

Illinois Power Company has announced the 14th consecutive quarterly dividend on its common stock.

The action was taken Tuesday by the firm's board of directors, which declared a dividend of 55 cents per share on the common stock of the company.

The board also declared regular quarterly dividends of 51 cents per share on the 4.08 per cent cumulative preferred stock, 52 1/2 cents on the 4.20 per cent cumulative preferred stock, 53 1/2 cents on the 4.40 per cent cumulative preferred, 58 1/2 cents per share on the 8.24 per cent and 9 1/2 cents per share on the 7.56 per cent cumulative preferred stock.

The dividends are all payable Nov. 1 to stockholders of record on Oct. 10.

Gospel singing at Grace Baptist

A spiritual gospel singing hour will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., according to the pastor, the Rev. W. Lloyd Duvall.

Featured during the afternoon music hour will be the Bethelites from Florissant, Mo., the Singing Chapmans from Collinsville and the local Gospelaires and Grace Church Choir.

stretching the law, but sometimes you have to stretch it," Whitsell said.

Auditor Norman Hessler said he feels the township is obligated to pay the cost, even though the agreement was made by a previous board of auditors.

He said he believes the present town board's finance committee should give consideration to ways to fulfill the obligation.

Bell told the board he realizes the crossing lights are needed, but said he feels an "obligation" to our people to spend money where it should be spent. I will look into the issue instead of jumping into it."

Hessler repeated, "Nameoki Township has made a commitment to do it."

Whitsell added, "I hope we don't delay for long on this. It is up to Mr. Bell to do his duty."

Regina London is elected by Future Secretaries chapter

Regina London, a senior at Madison High School, was elected Tuesday as president of the school's chapter of Future Secretaries of America (FSA).

Other officers elected were: Anita Rogers, vice-president, Anita Black treasurer, Lunita Young recording secretary and Lorna Mallett, corresponding secretary.

The officers decided that two board members will be selected from the incoming juniors. Letters will be sent to prospective members next year.

Mrs. Young on state advisory panel for university extension

Mrs. Jewell Young of Madison, a member of the Madison County Home Economics Extension Service State Advisory Committee meeting on the University of Illinois campus at Urbana-Champaign.

Mrs. Young has been appointed by the University of Illinois Board of Trustees to a three-year term on the committee.

The group offers guidance and counsel to the state Extension Service administrative staff headed by Dr. John B. Clair.

Residents from throughout Illinois serve in this advisory capacity to provide a grassroots viewpoint in establishing Extension programming efforts and development of policy.

Deadline on
study abroad

The 1976-77 competition for grants for graduate study abroad under the Mutual Educational Exchange Program (Fulbright-Hays) and by foreign governments, universities and private donors will close shortly, according to David Brown, assistant dean of the Graduate School at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Deadline for filing applications is Oct. 1.

Qualified graduate students may apply for $50 awards available in 52 different countries, Brown said.

Most of the grants provide round-trip transportation and maintenance for one academic year. A few grants provide international travel only or a stipend intended as a partial grant-in-aid.

Candidates must be U. S. citizens at the time of application, hold a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by the beginning date of the grant, have language ability commensurate with the demands of the proposed study projects, and good health. Preference will be given those between 20 and 45 years of age.

Applications and further information for students currently enrolled at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville may be obtained from the Granite School Office. The office is located in Room 202 of the General Office Building.

Gain in Illinois
highway safety

Improved roads have been an important factor in reducing traffic accidents, Michael J. Howlett, Illinois secretary of state, told a regional meeting of the American Right of Way Association today at Rosemont.

Howlett said U.S. highways are the safest among major nations and the safest of all time.

"Measured by the number of miles traveled, the United States has the lowest traffic death rate in the world," he stressed.

"The latest international survey, for 1972, found 45 traffic fatalities in the U.S. for every billion miles traveled. The next lowest was 56 in the United Kingdom, followed by 66 in Australia. There were 152 in France and 194 in Belgium.

"Since then, our fatality rate has been lowered, to 43 per billion miles in 1973 and to 36 in 1974.

"In Illinois, there were 34 deaths per billion miles traveled in 1974, lower than the national average.

"Back in 1929, when 35 or 40 miles an hour was almost a frightening speed, there were 210 fatalities per billion miles traveled in Illinois.

"Better roads are only one of many reasons why driving is safer than it used to be. "We have licensing laws to keep dangerous drivers off the road. We have better education of motorists. We have better traffic laws, and better enforcement of the laws.

"The car itself has been made safer, with power brakes and steering, windshield washers and wipers, improved lighting systems and warning signals. An inexpensive but highly effective safety feature is the seat belt. It's too bad so many drivers don't use them.

"From 1941 to 1974, the total number of persons killed in traffic in Illinois dropped from 2,400, the highest figure of history, to 2,007, although the number of cars on the road tripled and the number of miles traveled also tripled.

"New factors in the 1974 safety record were an increase in price of gasoline, which diminished travel, and the 55 miles per hour speed limit, which diminished speed.

"There is no way we can measure the traffic safety contribution of the appraisers, attorneys, engineers, permit negotiators, property managers, title examiners and others who influence the purchase of land for rights-of-way.

"Members of the association

Stevenson says
on oil prices

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., as Senate hearings were announced on the impact of controlling oil prices, said two administrations have misled the nation and "we are compelled to ask whether they are wrong now."

Stevenson is chairman of the Senate Commerce Subcommittee on Oil and Natural Gas Production and Distribution and an ex-officio member of the Senate's Fuel and Energy Policy Study which has been holding hearings.

Referring to President Nixon, he said the president and his advisors in 1973 "told us that rising energy prices would have little effect on the economy or the structure of the petroleum industry."

"Soon afterward, thousands of independent gasoline dealers shut their doors forever and the economy registered its worst decline since the Great Depression. They were wrong then, and we are compelled to ask whether they are wrong now."

Stevenson contended that President Ford and his administration "are again telling us that the effects of massive energy price increases will be minimal."

He predicted dire consequences due to veto of oil price controls:

"With eight million already unemployed, with regular gasoline already selling for 64 cents a gallon, and with double-digit inflation beginning anew, we can ill afford to be wrong again."

mark 33rd year

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Petroff were honored on the occasion of their 33rd wedding anniversary last weekend at a party given in their home, 2807 E. 23rd St.

Many gifts were presented to the couple. Later the same evening, guests at the party attended a dance at Collinsville Park Ballroom.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Opich of University City, Mo.; David Sieberg of Festus, Mo.; Mrs. Justine Walker and Cordell Burnett, both of Granite City, and Debra, Deonard and Chris Petroff, Jr., children of the guests of honor.

A son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Pryor of Springfield, Mo., were unable to attend.

Approve plans on furnishings at Tower Lake

Project plans for three noninstructional capital improvements at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were approved Tuesday by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (BHE). The meeting of the board was held in the Cooperative Computer Center on the Elmhurst College campus.

The projects and costs approved for SIUE are: purchase of an analyzer for Health Services, $20,653; purchase of furnishings for the Tower Lake Housing complex, $19,000; and purchase of snack bar seating for the Commons Building at Tower Lake housing, $6,120.

Financial aid programs, and their effects on students, were major topics of discussion at the BHE meeting. The board received a report from its staff regarding amounts and sources of financial aid available to students at public and private colleges and universities during the 1974-75 year.

The board also received a "longitudinal study" of Illinois State Scholarship Commission monetary award winners.

It received several master plan reports and recommendations, and set aside the afternoon for an in-depth discussion of the major issues involved in development of an updated master plan for Illinois higher education. A final document is expected to be adopted in December.

The board also reviewed the governor's action on fiscal 1975-76 operating and capital appropriation bills; received institutional requests for new programs for 1976-77; received a report and recommendations concerning the board's decision-making process; and received a preliminary report regarding a survey of educational television equipment and facilities at Illinois colleges and universities.

Shower honors Peggy Bischoff

Miss Peggy Bischoff was complimented at a bridal shower given this week by a group of friends, including her bridesmaids, Miss Leslye Wahling and Mrs. Pamela Bischoff, in the honoree's home, 3111 E. 23rd St.

White wedding bells will with turquoise appointments decorated the buffet table for the social event held in the family room.

Those winning prizes at games were Jo Ann Eckmann, Imogene Biggs, Helen Frazier, Debbie Scott, Maureen Hogan, Tina Gitchoff, Rosemarie Schmidt, Gladys Wilbur, Karen Bischoff and Pat Thomas.

Other guests present were Jeanne Wilbur, Sharon Daley, Debbie Noble, Catherine Eckmann, Janice Biggs, Sue Riggins, Heather Riggins, Louise Holston and Lorraine Bischoff.

Miss Bischoff and Richard Wilbur will be married on Sept. 20 at St. John United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Allen is circle hostess

Mrs. Dolores Allen, 1720 Garfield Ave., was hostess to the "Truth Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, last week for its first meeting of the fall season.

Devotions, given by Mrs. Shirley Loy, were taken from the book, "Creative Help for Daily Living," and an article by Ruth Stafford Peale, "The Changing Role of Today's Woman."

Excerpts by Norman Vincent Peale on "Ten Steps Toward a Richer and a Fuller Life" also were reviewed.

Circle leader Mrs. Betty Williams announced plans for the group to attend district meetings of United Methodist Women and also a meeting at the local church on Tuesday. Officer Friendly Glenn Wright of the Granite City police department will present the program at the latter session.

Others present were Mesdames Jean Maxwell, Katharyn Richardson, Elizabeth Briggs, Eula Davis, Edna Stutch, Geneva Miller, and Elizabeth Dix. The October meeting will be with Mrs. Geneva Miller.

Mrs. McIntosh feted at party

The Venice Recreation Center was decorated in a pink, blue and yellow motif for a surprise baby shower given this week in honor of Mrs. Donna Kelley McIntosh. The hostess was Mrs. Alice Johnston.

Several games were played and prizes were awarded to the winners.

Assisting the honoree in opening her gifts were Mrs. Teresa Wallace and the former's son, Eugene McIntosh.

Hilltoppers enroll three

Three new members were welcomed to the Hilltoppers Club at a meeting Tuesday at St. John United Church of Christ. They are Mrs. Hilda Shaulb, Mrs. Ida Knapp and Mrs. Lorraine Cathey.

A potluck dinner at noon was attended by 34 persons. A business session followed at 1 p.m. with Carl Henken, president, in charge.

It was announced that Mrs. Katherine Leuchman, a member, was taken ill while visiting in Michigan and is a patient in the Saginaw General Hospital, Saginaw, Mich.

Also hospitalized is Mrs. Vera Schilling at St. Elizabeth here and Mrs. Mable Burselmeier and Mrs. Ola Downing remain nursing home patients.

Songs were sung and a short devotional was given. The Rev. Paul R. Surbey, pastor, offered the closing meditations.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent at games with prizes awarded to the successful contestants.

MRS. BARNETT HOSTS BUNKO-ETTES CLUB

Mrs. Dorothy Barnett was hostess to the Bunko-Ettes Club at its monthly party last week.

Members presented a gift and a decorated cake to Mrs. Rose Druhe in honor of her birthday.

Those winning prizes at games were Mesdames Angie Buehler, Ruth Partney, Helen Lipchik, Florida Batson and May Elang.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to those named and to Mesdames Evelyn McCalligan, Julia Portell, Leona Delaoye, Helen Santagato and Juanita Blevins. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Lipchik.

YOUTHS STEAL BEER

Two youths were seen stealing a case of beer from a rear storage shed at the Ingleside Tavern, 23rd Street and Madison Avenue, at 1:10 a.m. Tuesday. A witness said one youth with long black hair jumped over the rear fence, pried the hatch from the shed door, took a case of beer and handed it over the fence to another youth. He then returned over the fence and both ran away with the beer.

Lion loose? Yes, but it was only 'Pookie'

Reports of a lion running loose around the pool of the Holiday Inn on Sunset Hill at 10 p.m. Monday led Madison County Sheriff's Deputy John Wiese to wonder if patrons in the lounge who reported the sightings had been drinking a wee bit much.

After a watchman, who had not been drinking, told Wiese he also has seen the lion, Wiese decided to investigate.

He reported, "I walked very carefully to the pool area." He soon saw a couple peering into bushes surrounding the swimming pool.

He said the two, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Beck of Algonac, Mich., visitors in the motel, reported they had lost their pet, Pookie—a 140-pound female lion.

The Becks said the lion, which had its claws removed, is very gentle and sleeps in the couple's bedroom at home.

Wiese said he felt that "this would be my first and only chance to pet a lion," so he did.

He also told the Becks he believes their pet "would be a great asset to deputies in dispersing homecoming crowds."

Housing sought for university students

Housing is "desperately needed" for students from outside the immediate area who are planning to attend Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall.

William Hall, director of student housing at the university, said yesterday, "We've got approximately 400 single students we cannot locate housing for. There is some available housing, but it is too expensive for students trying to get their education."

Approximately 100 married students are on the waiting list for university housing but their living situations are not as critical, Hall said. They already live within commuting distance and usually have transportation. Many of the single students will have their own transportation or can probably provide it, if they can find housing near the campus, Hall said. Cities such as Alton, Wood River, Granite City, Troy, Marine, East Alton, Roxana, Hamel, Collinsville or Edwardsville would be ideal for students commuting to SIUE, he added.

"I thought last winter we had accommodated nearly all our university students when we expanded our housing facilities, but our waiting list doubled," Hall said.

Individuals who would rent a room, or convert a family room into sleeping quarters for a student, will be able to make extra money as well as assist a student in getting his education, Hall said.

"We'll be glad to list any facilities they have and refer the students to them," Hall said. "We have a lot of householders in the Edwardsville area who have provided rooms since the campus was opened. Those situations have worked out well for both the student and the landlord," Hall said.

Guidelines for renting facilities and model lease agreements are available at the SIUE Office of Student Housing.

Talk on patents

Rene D. Tegmeyer, assistant commissioner of patents for patent examining, U.S. Patent Office, Washington, D.C., will be the featured speaker at a patent conference to be held Wednesday, Sept. 17, at the Ramada Inn, Page Boulevard and Interstate 270, St. Louis County. The program will be from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Topics include "protecting your idea" and "utilizing your protection." The conference is being presented through the cooperation of University of Missouri Business and Industry Extension, University of Missouri-Rolla, Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis, Small Business Administration and U.S. Department of Commerce. For registration and fee information, Quad-Cities may call or write Dr. R. F. Wehrmann, University of Missouri Extension Center, Route 2, Box 225C, St. Charles, Mo. 63301; the phone number is (314) 623-4513.

Offer textbooks starting Sept. 17

Students attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall may pick up their textbooks beginning Sept. 17, according to James Oglesby, supervisor of Textbook Services.

The fall quarter schedule for textbook issues will be: Sept. 17, 18 and 19 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.; Sept. 20 from 8 a.m. until noon; and Sept. 22, 23, 24 and 25 from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. On Friday, Sept. 26, textbook issues will be held from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., and the hours Sept. 27 will be 8 a.m. until noon. On Sept. 29, 30 and 31, books may be picked up from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m.

After that date, Textbook Services will return to regularly scheduled hours, Oglesby said. The office of Textbook Services is located in the basement of Lovejoy Library at SIUE.

A new look at miracles

About two thousand years ago, lepers, life-time cripples, and the insane were healed by Christ Jesus and many of his followers.

But somehow their accomplishments have not become a natural way of life for most people, who regard them as strictly a phenomena of the past.

The fact is, though, that instances of healing and regeneration through enlightened prayer are going on today. Every day.

You can hear some outstanding examples — and how they were brought about — in a talk by Eugene DePold Tyc, C.S.B. of San Diego, Calif., a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Mixed reaction on automatic raises for federal legislators

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record

The legislative coup approving a pay raise for members of Congress and high federal officials was a hot issue but not for others.

Returning from the long recess, they report differing reactions from their constituents.

The cost-of-living pay increase was attached to a minor postal bill and it came to public attention only five days before final passage July 30. But six months of offstage strategy preceded the coup.

Rep. Philip M. Crane, the Mount Prospect Republican, hardly one to applaud the maneuver, suggested that it was pretty slick. He said he heard far less reaction than he expected.

"One reason was the public's lack of understanding of what Congress did in pegging the increase to an automatic cost-of-living adjustment. There was no fanfare. It slipped right through and was over and done with when Congress adjourned."

Crane said he is "distracted" that the "members have insulated themselves" and have "removed the last inhibition to deficit spending."

Rep. John B. Anderson, the Rockford Republican and a House leader, said he found it "an issue that touched the sensitive nerves of some people," although he sympathized with some younger members of Congress who are trying to rear and educate children and survive in Washington on a constantly eroding salary.

Rep. Paul Simon, Carbondale Democrat, had no problems with the pay vote.

"I had some expressions of approval for my vote against the pay raise," he said. "I didn't feel that after seven months in Congress I could vote myself a raise."

"There are nine million people out of work and we have to have higher priorities than pay raises for top-income bracket."

Rep. John N. Erlenborn, Glen Ellyn Republican, who got "some very nasty letters" on his vote for the raise, said some people are so fed up with Congress and the federal government they'd object to anything.

"Most people don't realize that we haven't had a pay raise since 1969," he pointed out. "Since then, we've lost 45 percent of our purchasing power."

Rep. Tim L. Hall, Dwight Democrat, said he got some questions on his vote but he doesn't feel "taken to task."

"They asked me more about the wheat deal than the pay raise," Hall said, adding that his constituent meetings turned on the bread-and-butter issues of energy, the economy, jobs and pensions.

Call-in questions on one of his radio shows zeroed in almost solely on the canning-lid shortage.

Rep. Henry J. Hyde, Park Ridge Republican, "got two letters, neither from my district." Hyde voted for the raise on the rationale that "federal judges and top people in government have been sacrificing since 1969 and they need the raise."

Federal judges and top people in government have been sacrificing since 1969 and they need the raise."

Rep. Edward R. Madigan, Lincoln Republican, told a press conference in his district that he would vote for the raise and turn the $285 increase over to the U. S. Treasury because the Illinois Constitution forbids raising salary during your term of office. He said that if he is re-elected in 1976, he will keep the raise.

Rep. Thomas F. Rallsback, Moline Republican, heard few complaints about the raise per se, but there were objections to the cost-of-living escalator.

"I understand that they think we ought to vote on a raise every year," he said.

Mrs. Corda A. Pettit, 99, of 2816 Madison Ave., died at 8:35 a.m. Wednesday at The Colonnades nursing home, where she had resided for three and a half years.

Born in Happy Hollow, Ia., Mrs. Pettit resided in East St. Louis prior to moving to this area 25 years ago.

Her husband, Owen Pettit, died in August 1936.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Zella Elmore of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Competing proposals for gas lines to state

A Midwestern congressman has labeled as "junk" a Department of Interior study on transporting Alaskan natural gas to the lower 48 states.

Rep. Les Aspin, a three-term Democrat from Racine, Wis., is a frequent critic of the Defense Department. In a statement, his target is a working proposal, Interior sent to Congress comparing proposals to ship liquid natural gas to California in tankers and pumping it as gas overland to Illinois.

Aspin argued that the study made by Aerospace Corp., Los Angeles, for Interior is "riddled with inaccurate assumptions designed to torpedo a trans-Alaskan gas pipeline."

This system would deliver Alaskan natural gas to a terminal "somewhere south of Chicago."

Characterizing the study as

"practically useless," Aspin also said it is "biased in favor of the trans-Alaska" system, which is tanker delivery to California for regasification and ultimate U. S. distribution in pipelines.

The final report is due Nov. 16 for Congressional consideration of the two competing proposals, which the Aerospace Corp. analysis said are feasible and comparable in cost.

Jack Carlson, assistant Interior secretary for energy and minerals, made the study public at a news conference. He took pains to point out then that the study was not government "policy" and that it "does not answer the question of which (system) is best."

Aspin faults the study for not addressing the regional economic impacts of each pipeline, i.e., the one from California and the other from Illinois.

"The study, in a foreword, acknowledged this, saying, 'It was intended only to address the next economic benefits to the nation' and that 'regional impacts' and other implications 'are not the subject of this study.'"

"The key argument for a trans-Alaskan pipeline is the economic boost that it will give the Midwest," Aspin says, adding that the study ignores this aspect.

He also asserts that it fails to calculate the cost of transporting natural gas.

"This is very convenient for the proponent of a trans-Alaska pipeline who would like to forget about the high cost of building tankers needed to transport the gas and the price of liquefying natural gas and then re-gasifying it," Aspin says.

In all, he made seven specific criticisms which he sent to Acting Interior Secretary Kent Frizell with a suggestion that the federal government start "from scratch" so it can "make a reasonable judgment on which system is best."

Frizell said when the report was made public that delivery of Alaskan gas to the lower 48 states is part of President Ford's program to alleviate the serious gas shortage.

"This draft serves two purposes," Frizell said, "as a progress report to Congress, and as a vehicle for discussion of the various transportation routes by which Alaskan gas could be delivered."

Senior citizen fair Sept. 16

The Community Involvement Project of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold its sixth senior citizen fair at the University Center on Tuesday, Sept. 16, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Members of senior citizen clubs in Illinois and Missouri have been invited to attend.

The fall fair, run by SIUE student volunteers, will include kitchen bands, choral groups, at least two orchestras, a magic show and art and craft displays.

Much of the day's entertainment will be provided by the senior citizens themselves.

Representatives from agencies offering services and benefits to the elderly will be on hand to provide information material to the golden agers.

Some of the agencies represented will include the Southwestern Illinois Agency on Aging, American Cancer Society, Budget Food Service, Social Security Administration and Department of Public Aid. Senior citizens will have an opportunity to display their handicraft, hobbies and artwork in the Coburn Lounge. Many hand-crafted articles will be offered for sale.

Keynote speaker during the morning session will be Dr. William J. Tudor, associate director of the SIU Press. During the past several years, Tudor has been active in programs on the aging.

Entertainment during the day's activities will include the RSVP Orchestra from Belleville Area College, the Madison Kitchen Band, the East St. Louis Singers, Glenn Tonsor's magic show, the Alton Senior Band, Granite City AARP (American Association of Retired Persons), Rhythm Band and the Frank Cherry orchestra.

All activities at the fair are free.

Fashion Outlet opens Saturday

A new women's clothing store, Fashion Outlet, will open here Saturday at 1294 State St., featuring first quality "mix 'n match fashion coordinates."

The new store is operated by Wilma Dorch and Margaret Noser of Granite City.

Women's clothing by Career Fashion will be featured but not all styles will be available in every size, the operators said.

The method of purchasing utilized by the store will allow the clothing to be sold below the cost of clothing in most retail clothing outlets, they added.

Adding a new line of men's clothing is planned for the near future.

The store is located in a building formerly occupied by a gift shop. It has about 400 square feet of floor space, of which about 300 square feet will be used for display area.

Regular Downtown business hours will be observed Mondays through Saturdays.

Car hits 3 autos, meter, park shrubs

Curtis Walker, 23, of 2414 Madison Ave., was charged with driving while intoxicated and failure to give information after an accident; his car allegedly struck three parked cars, a parking meter and shrubbery along Delmar Avenue at 11:35 p.m. Monday.

Police allege a northbound auto swerved to the left and struck the parked car of Michael Orlovski, 2117a Delmar Ave., parked in front of his house.

The moving auto continued and crashed into the car of Robert Massman, 2125 Delmar Ave., parked by Orlovski's auto, it is alleged.

The motorist then backed the auto, striking Orlovski's auto again and left the scene, according to police charges.

The car allegedly drove across the corner of Civic Park at 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, damaging shrubbery, struck a parking meter at Delmar and Niedringhaus avenues and continued to the 2300 block of Delmar Ave., where it crashed head-on with the parked car of Roby Marie King, 2321 Delmar Ave.

Walker was released after posting $100 bond.

New Johnny Cash film to be shown

The story is old, but the perspective is updated and brought into focus by the film, "The Gospel Road," to be shown at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Calvary Baptist Church, 3000 Washington Ave., a spokesman reports.

The film on the life of Christ was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash. Their desire was to tell the story of Jesus in a realistic and meaningful way, it was related.

The 63-minute color production was filmed entirely in Israel.

The film is called a unique blend of Scripture-based narrative, an abundance of specially-written songs, and a series of in-depth character portrayals.

"The film takes the viewer beside the Jordan and the Sea of Galilee to 'see' Christ in many human situations that attempt to establish a practical and personal rapport with the viewer," the spokesman says. "It portrays the disciples in their varied personalities."

"Reviewers have described the scene of the trial before Pilate as having a highly emotional impact."

"Adding to the effectiveness of the film in its endeavor to convey reality for this day are the fascinating treatment of the Crucifixion, making this tragedy an event of significance that reaches from its own time across the years to take on meaning for all men of all ages, and the songs and background music of Cash and other outstanding musicians. Their contemporary style is not out of keeping with the story, which reveals Christ's darkest day—a day that has become the Christians' brightest."

The public is being invited to attend the free showing of the film, according to the Rev. Al Slayter, pastor of the church.

Lowe-Young ceremony at Monterrey, Mexico

A wedding in Mexico of interest here was that of Miss Janet Young, a former Granite City resident, and Ripley Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lowe of Pleasanton, Tex., taking place in mid-August at Monterrey.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley (Rose) Young of Colonia del Valle, Mexico, formerly of Granite City.

The Rev. R. Drew Wolcott officiated at the religious service in the Union Church of Monterrey.

As is the custom in Mexico, a civil marriage ceremony in the home of the bride's parents preceded the church service.

Juez (Judge) Enrique Garcia Leal conducted the civil ceremony with a translation of the Spanish wording read in English for family and friends who attended.

Music at the church was furnished by Juan Sepulveda of Monterrey, organist, who played, "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach, and "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell.

Mrs. George Grobein of Monterrey sang "Du Ring An Meinen Finger" by Schuman and "Padre Nuestro" (The Lord's Prayer) by Malone.

The flower girl was Marcella Murillo of Monterrey, and the ringbearer was Page Blanton of Austin, Tex., a nephew of the groom.

Mr. Lowe chose Joe Billy Mann of Austin as best man and Thomas Blanton of Austin and Eusibio Compton of Pleasanton as groomsmen.

The bride wore a white silk gown with a white tulle skirt and a Spanish lace applique created the brief cap sleeves and the wedding ring collar.

The intricate lacework was applied on the fitted bodice and accented the lower part of the slender skirt.

She wore a mantle veil, edged with Spanish lace, attached to a tiny cap and she carried a white basket filled with white roses and assorted garden flowers.

The honor attendant and bridesmaids were gowned in pastel flowered polyester in shades of blue, yellow, green and peach. Their frocks were designed and made by Mrs. White, the bride's sister.

Each attendant held a small white basket of multi-colored carnations.

At the civil ceremony the bride was dressed in a flowered chiffon gown in pale green.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Young chose a pale green frock and a corsage of yellow and white roses. The bridegroom's mother appeared in a pale yellow dress with a chiffon over-jacket and a corsage of white and pink roses.

A garden reception followed the services at the home of the bride's parents at Colonia del Valle, Nuevo Leon.

Champaigne punch and a four-tier wedding cake were served the guests.

Mrs. Al Rolston of Monterrey presided over the cake cutting and Cindy Winslow of Monterrey was in charge of the guest book.

Mariachi serenaded the bride and groom at the rehearsal dinner party, hosted by the groom's parents, at the Santa Rosa Restaurant in Monterrey on the evening before the wedding.

The former Miss Young attended Granite City schools and is completing her senior year at the Pan-American University at Edinburg, Tex., majoring in music.

The bridegroom attended Pleasanton schools and was graduated from Schreins Institute and Sam Houston State University. He is employed as a coach and teacher at Westaco, Tex., where the couple is now residing after a short trip.

Among the guests at the ceremonies was Mrs. Russell Briggs of LaGrange, Ill., the bride's grandmother.

Afternoon Guild installs

Mrs. Ellen Ehrlert served as installing officer for Mrs. Grace Hamm and Mrs. Louise Brinkhoff, who were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the Afternoon Guild of St. John United Church of Christ.

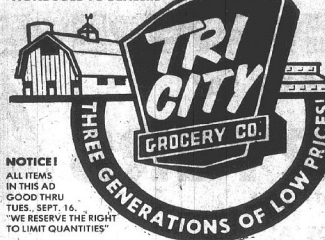

The ceremony took place at last week's meeting at the church. Other officers, elected last year, will continue their duties in 1975-76.

Mrs. Alycia Seipel and Mrs. Brinkhoff arranged for the program dealing with the history of the Salvation Army. Captain Michael Tompkins, the Army's newly appointed local officer, was the guest speaker.

He reported the Salvation Army, now 112 years old, held its first open preaching services in St. Louis. To mark the occasion a plaque has been erected in the downtown St. Louis area.

Community Choir to mark 3rd year

The North Venice-West Madison Community Choir will celebrate its third anniversary on Sunday at 3 p.m., at the Trinity Church of God in Christ, located at 800 Biassett St., Madison.

Elder Norvell V. Woolfolk, host pastor, said the program theme this year will be "To the Glory of God."

Mary Ruth Collier of St. Louis, a missionary and "an inspired woman of God" will serve as master of ceremonies; the Rev. Woolfolk said.

The Community Choir has traveled extensively this year and many friends from other groups, choirs and ensembles are expected to join in the celebration, the pastor said. The public is invited to attend.

Serving as officers are: Vivian McHenry, president; Gail Gordon, secretary; Edgar W. Jones, director, and Ronald Harris, minister of music.

Baptist Women plan programs

The Rev. Bob Worley, pastor of Suburban Baptist Church, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Baptist Women held at the church last week.

He outlined program plans for various church organizations this year and requested aid from the women's group in promoting their success.

An election of officers was conducted at the first session of the new season. Those named were: Mrs. Jean Fisher, president; Mrs. Florence Petrovich, secretary; Mrs. Sharon Purkey, mission study and program chairman; Mrs. Ursula Cook, prayer support chairman; Mrs. Georgette Monical, mission activity chairman and Mrs. Dee Smith, missions fund chairman.

Mrs. Helen Stanford, director of the Madison County Association of Women's Missionary Union (WMU), announced a leadership training course for all WMU classes will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Oct. 6 at Suburban Baptist.

She said WMU directors, Baptist Women's group officers, and Acolytes, G.A. and Mission Friends leaders are eligible to attend.

The course will be under the direction of state WMU officers. Those planning to attend are asked to bring a salad lunch. A nursery will be provided, Mrs. Stanford added.

Mrs. Purkey reviewed a program to aid hospital patients by providing needed items they may be unable to purchase.

After the meeting ice cream sundae were served by Mrs. Judy Worley and Mrs. Fisher to those named and to Arlene Wyatt, Mary Charlton, Edna Jackson and Kathy Petrovich. The Oct. 9 meeting will be combined with a winter roast at the home of the president.

Albert Kiborts celebrate 25th

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kibort, 3341 Colgate Place, were honored at a reception in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary given by their children at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Kibort and his wife, the former Shirley Rogers, were married on Aug. 26, 1950 by the late Rev. Msgr. Michael Costello at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Hosting the celebration were their sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Russell (Kathy) Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. David (Karen) Chapman, and sons, Kenne and Keith Kibort. A buffet dinner was served to 200 guests by Mrs. Emma Jakich, Mrs. Juanita Fett, Mrs. Winona Kibort, Mrs. Joyce Hall, Mrs. Margaret MacZura and Mr. and Mrs. Haroldine Ross. All are sisters of the honorees.

Homemakers discuss credit

The Granite City Unit of the Madison County Homemakers Extension Association began the fall season last week with a program on consumer credit presented by Miss Darlene Heer, county associate extension adviser.

Unit members discussed various types of credit, when credit is useful and the current rates of interest.

Miss Heer stressed the advantages and disadvantages of using credit and distributed booklets from the University of Illinois, dealing with consumer credit.

"Fannies for Friendship," explained by Mrs. Stanley Owen related to various groups within the association.

Reflex Ramsey reported on the homemakers camp held in Jacksonville, Ill., this summer.

Unit Chairman Mrs. Julius Sobczak said a craft day will be held in October and the unit also will sponsor a 4-H club led by Mrs. Wendell McIlvay.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. John Sever, Mrs. Ray Bergschneider and Mrs. Ramsey. The Oct. 1 meeting will be held at Grace Baptist Church.

Harvest theme for Venice Women

The Venice Women's Club held its September meeting during the weekend at the Venice Recreation Center.

Two new members were added to the club roster, Mrs. Katherine Van Horn and Mrs. Ann Hartman. A contribution was made to the Cystic Fibrosis fund and a gift was sent to Mrs. Ruth Ohlendorf, a member, who is a patient at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

It was announced the Marge Salem School of Dance will present a program at the October meeting.

Games and prizes were provided by the hostesses, Mrs. Ruth Canner, Mrs. Lula Kowalski, Mrs. Clara Krause, Mrs. Naomi Boelling and Mrs. Ora Anderson.

The tables were decorated in an autumn harvest theme with baskets of fruit and cornucopias of fall colored flowers. Place cards were in an Indian motif.

Other members present were Mesdames Loretta Ziegler, Margaret Seibert, Josephine Johnice, Hazel Painter, Evie Owens, Rose Scaturro, Nora McColl, Vivian McKinney, Rheta Buente, Elsie Canner, Mamie Ponce, Bess Snell, Alice Mitchell, Madonna Groshong, Sybil Robbs, Jessie Foley and Ista Bauer.

EUGENE D. TYC. The San Diego, Calif., resident will give a public lecture at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Church of Christ Scientist, Granite City. Introduced by William J. Mehl, he will discuss "how Christ restored the sick and the sinning to wholeness." Richard M. Marcotte, lecture committee chairman, reports that Tyc will describe how he and his wife turned to God for guidance after a bomb exploded on an airplane in which they were passengers.

AIRMAN CLARK S. RAY JR. The son of Mrs. Darlene E. Ray, 222 Kerr St., Venice, he has been selected for technical training in the U.S. Air Force aircraft maintenance field at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex. The airman has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex., where he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Airman Ray is a 1975 graduate of Venice High School.

Players perform for secretaries

Performers from the East Bank Players, under the direction of Jim Pensternman, presented a program at the monthly meeting of the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association, held last week at Charlie's Restaurant.

The opening act was based on a secretary's "day in the office" and was followed by a brief preview of a play to be presented by the Players in October and November.

Ann Smith, president, presided at the session and introduced a guest, Mrs. Linda Posner, secretary at the Belleville Area College.

Members approved the budget for the year and discussed "honey night" to be on Oct. 22 at Rusty's Restaurant in Edwardsville. Selection of "boss of the year" will be announced at the dinner meeting.

Past Matrons open season

The Past Matrons Club of Granite Chapter 650, Order of Eastern Star, resumed its meetings for the new season at a luncheon held at the home of Mrs. Isabel Dieckmann in East Alton.

Mrs. Louise Meador, president, was in charge of the business discussions. She announced the annual past matrons' and past patrons' night will be held at 8 o'clock, Sept. 26 at the Masonic Temple. Officers will be filled with past officers. Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne (Rachel) Larsen, past patron and past patron, will officiate that evening as worthy matron and patron.

A card was read from Mr. and Mrs. Brinley Bodman, who have just returned from an Adriatic cruise. The group also sang happy birthday to Mrs. Mary Billow.

Games were played and prizes were won by Hannah Kleinschmidt, Ida Carise, Bess Henley and Rachel Larsen. Others present were Arlene Fox, Clara Harbig, Cora Hellich, Virginia John, Mary Ellen Lewis, Betty McClintock and Katherine Roman.

58ers 4-H Club elects officers

The 58ers 4-H club held its first meeting of the new season last week at St. John United Church of Christ. The program at the Oct. 2 meeting was led by Janet Scannell and Cynthia Goeller. Newly elected officers who assumed their duties that evening were:

President, Karen Spencer; vice-president, Dina Long; secretary, Susan Sigite, treasurer, Susan Basarich; recreation chairman, Michelle Jenness; and refreshment chairman, Janet Scannell. New members in attendance were Gloria Millan, Beth Goeller and Dina Lance. Mrs. Millan was a guest and "Happy Birthday" was sung to Tracey Johnson.

During the evening a club newsletter was distributed and enrollment cards were collected. Committees for 4-H week activities in October were appointed.

Poster chairmen for each school represented are: Patty Basarich, St. Margaret Mary; Tracey Johnson, Coolidge; Helen Goeller, North High; Donna Jones, Prather; Cynthia Goeller, Griggly; Lisa Griffey, Webster; Laura Jenness, Park-

MR. AND MRS. ERIK P. WIEHARDT. They were united in marriage at the Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church in Dunkirk, N.Y. The bride is the former Miss Bonnie L. Brown, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Brown, Fredonia, N.Y. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Wiehardt, reside in Granite City.

Miss Bonnie Brown and Erik Wiehardt are wed

The wedding of Miss Bonnie L. Brown, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Brown, 8965 Fredonia-Stockton Rd., Fredonia, N.Y., and Erik P. Wiehardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Wiehardt, 2532 E. 27th St., was solemnized on Aug. 16 at the Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church in Dunkirk, N.Y.

A double ring ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by Father Robert Wood. Nuptial selections were sung by soloists Allan Blume and Mrs. David Wiens, accompanied by Maureen A. O'Neill at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Quiana knit gown. A delicate design on the empire bodice was embroidered with seed pearls and repeated at the wedding ring neckline and on the cuffs of the bishop sleeves. Her slightly full skirt swept gently into a circular chapel train.

A tiered veil of silk illusion, bordered with Venise lace, cascaded from a lace trimmed camelot headpiece. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white Sweetheart roses, miniature carnations, yellow and white daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Richard Bliss, matron of honor, selected a long apricot colored gown with a sleeveless bodice and A-line skirt. A crocheted edging accented the bolero jacket and she wore a matching fluted brim picture hat with long white streamers. Her bouquet of apricot roses was encircled with a garland of yellow and white daisies.

Bridesmaids Miss Clare Collesano and Mrs. Steven Paxhia appeared in yellow dresses identical in style to the honor attendant. Their flowers were yellow and white daisies, intermingled with baby's breath.

James Stefan served as best man with Anthony C. Wiehardt, the groom's brother, and Randall Brown, a cousin of the bride, as groomsmen.

After the service, guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Fredonia Holiday Inn.

Mary Martha Class elects

The Mary Martha Class of Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 21st and Benton streets, elected Mrs. Ruth Ann Williams as its president during a meeting last week at the home of Carolyn Roady, 2161 Pontoon Road.

Also elected were Mrs. Dean Phelps as vice-president and treasurer and Mrs. Carolyn LeMaster as secretary.

The group sang "Love Lifted Me," accompanied by Donna Osborn at the piano. A business meeting was followed by a circle prayer led by Mrs. LeMaster.

Janet Gum and Dorothy Cox sang a duet of "Precious Memories" while Mrs. Cox played the piano.

Others attending were the class teacher, Mrs. Betty Warren, and Medames Elida Barnes, Mary Ann Walker, Shirley Goodall and Dena Williams.

Mrs. Williams will host the next meeting at her home, 1610 Ferguson Ave. The class meets the first Thursday of each month at 7 p.m.

THE HAWAIIANS. Mark and Diane Yasuhara, members of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusades, who will appear in concert at 9:45 a.m. Sunday at Tri-City Park Tabernacle. The public is invited to attend the service.

The Hawaiians to perform Sunday

Mark and Diane Yasuhara, known by many across the United States as "The Hawaiians," will appear at Tri-City Park Tabernacle, Clark Street and Maryville Road, at 9:45 a.m. Sunday.

The Rev. J. Albert Calaway, pastor, said the public is invited to hear the professional musicians from the Hawaiian Islands who have been traveling throughout the United States since 1969.

The Yasuharas are part of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusades appearing in most major cities. They performed in 1971 and 1972 at the Congressional Prayer Breakfasts and have been featured at the Christian Bookellers and the National Religious Broadcasters conventions.

Appealing to all ages and backgrounds, the Hawaiians repertoire encompasses the classical compositions of Bach, Handel and Puccini, together with the contemporary sounds of today, beautiful folk songs of Hawaii and traditional and modern hymns, the local pastor said.

Mark Yasuhara won the Pacific Regional auditions of both the Metropolitan and the San Francisco opera companies. He gave up a lucrative commercial singing career to devote full time to what he says is the church's real ministry—that of "Aloha" or love.

Mrs. O'Master hosts meeting

A cultural program, entitled "Woman: Her Heritage and Her Hope," was presented by Jan Jackstadt and Joyce Tracy at a meeting last week of Theta Theta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mrs. Midge O'Master, 3137 Maryville Road, hosted the group and Mrs. Linda Givens, president, presided over the business discussions.

Ways and means, projects were reviewed, with final plans to be completed at a later session. The white elephant prize was won by Mrs. Givens. Members discussed the role of women today in conjunction with the theme. In addition, each made a collage.

The hostess served a dessert luncheon to these named and to Ellen Brokaw, Sandy DeMoulin, Martha Gianakos, Mary Morgan, Cindy Mucho, Phyllis Talley and Jane Yates. Mrs. Yates will entertain the group on Sept. 18.

BRAND NEW DODGE CARS, TRUCKS, VANS

Jack Sez:

When you've got 73 cars and trucks left over at this time of the year you've gotta deal — close and for volume. We bought an extra heavy supply of 75's for several reasons . . .

JACK SCHMACKER

1. They cost a lot less than 76's
2. Special bonus deals from factory to dealer are passed on to you
3. Cash rebates up to $300 — won't be available in 1976
4. 1975 cars were built slower (consequently quality is at an all time high)

Area couples repeat vows in late summer weddings

MR. AND MRS. DWIGHT FORET. Whose wedding was solemnized at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. The former Tina M. Polach, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Polach, 4131 Old Alton Road.

St. Elizabeth scene of Foret-Polach nuptials

Miss Tina M. Polach became the bride of Dwight S. Foret in an early afternoon ceremony on Aug. 2 at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church.

Father Robert Becker performed the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock before an altar adorned with bouquets of red, white and blue carnations, interspersed with greenery.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Polach, reside at 4131 Old Alton Road. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Foret, Rural Route One, Granite City.

For her wedding, the bride appeared in a long white tulle gown, semi-belted style, created with an empire bodice and a scoop neckline accented with Venice lace.

Lace was repeated on the cardinal sleeves and train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a Venice lace headpiece and she carried a cascade of red carnations and baby's breath, festooned with red and white satin streamers.

All the attendants wore formal-length halter dresses made of blue floral chiffon and complemented with matching jackets.

Matron of honor Mrs. Carol Scheneman, a niece of the bride, carried a colonial bouquet of red and white carnations and baby's breath. The bridesmaids, Miss Rhonda Foret, a sister of the groom, Mrs. Paula Warner, a cousin of the groom, Miss Judy Polach, the bride's niece, and Miss Laura Rossales, each held a bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Joelle and Debbie Polach, nieces of the bride, flower girls, held baskets of red petals. Melissa Polach, also a niece of the bride, served as a miniature bride. She carried a nosegay of carnations.

Donald Pieper, the bride's nephew, was the ringbearer. Attending the groom as best man was Ron Parente. Groomsmen and ushers were Dennis Foret, the groom's brother, Doug Litzlman, Billy Glowacki, a cousin of the groom, and Brian Klaus, a cousin of the groom.

A reception was held at the VFW Hall in Granite City and the rehearsal dinner was served at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant in East Alton.

Both young people are graduates of North High School. The groom is employed at Colonial Bakery in Alton and is a member of the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department. The newlyweds are now residing in Granite City.

MARRIED. Air Force Sergeant and Mrs. Randy Hayes, who were married in an afternoon ceremony at Suburban Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Brenda Sue Jackson, a daughter of Mr. Edna Jackson, 2825 Iowa St., and the late John R. Jackson.

Hayes-Jackson wedding at Suburban Baptist

Suburban Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding on Aug. 30 of Miss Brenda Sue Jackson, a daughter of Mrs. Edna Jackson, 2825 Iowa St., and the late John R. Jackson, and Air Force Sergeant Randy Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knobloch, 2145 E. 24th St.

The Rev. Bob Worley and the Rev. Ed Stalneckier officiated at the 2 o'clock afternoon ceremony before an altar decorated with yellow and white summer blossoms.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall immediately following the service. Organist Joey Nichols accompanied Mrs. Beverly Hartenbach, a sister of the bride, as she sang, "One Hand, One Heart" and "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us." The Rev. Stalneckier and his wife, Bette, sang "God Bless Our Home."

Mrs. Stalneckier also sang "The Lord's Prayer." For her wedding, the former Miss Jackson chose a white silk organza gown fashioned with a peau d'ange lace empire bodice, featuring a scalloped neckline and long full sleeves.

Her full-length skirt was trimmed with lace motif and a full sweep train fell from a soft bow at the back. She wore a mantilla veil of matching lace attached to a headpiece of re-embroidered lace, encrusted with pearls crystals, and she held a white Bible topped with yellow roses.

Matron of honor Mrs. Barbara Thebeau, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaid Miss Debbie Thebeau, the bride's niece, were gowned in mint green sheer voile enhanced with Venice lace and ribbon trim. Each held a yellow rose. Twins Kim and Jim Thebeau, niece and nephew of the bride, served as flower girl and ringbearer. She was dressed in a mint green and white frock and carried a basket of rose petals.

Rick Lesko served as best man, with Mark Cook as groomsmen. Robert Hartenbach, the bride's brother-in-law, and Dennis Reutebuch escorted the guests to their seats.

Phillip Thebeau, a brother-in-law of the bride, escorted her to the altar.

Miss Karen Scanlan attended the guest book. After a honeymoon at the Lodge of the Four Seasons, the couple will reside at Whitman Air Force Base, where the groom is stationed.

The former Miss Jackson, a graduate of South High School, presently is employed at the local Boy Scout office. She is also a part-time secretary with the Stalneckier evangelistic team.

Sgt. Hayes also is a graduate of South High School. Both mothers wore green for the ceremony.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH ELLIFF. who were united in marriage at St. John United Church of Christ. The former Miss Carolyn Raynor, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raynor, Rural Route Two, Granite City.

Elliff-Raynor wedding at St. John United

St. John United Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding on Aug. 23 of Miss Carolyn Raynor, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Raynor, Rural Route Two, Granite City, and Kenneth W. Elliff of Port Leonard Wood, Mo.

The groom is a son of John H. Elliff, 2136 Orville St., and Mrs. Allen Russell of Tabbits, Mo.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. was the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey. Organist Mrs. Irene Barrick accompanied Dwayne Bridges, the soloist, who sang "One Hand, One Heart," "The Wedding Song," "Misty" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bridal gown was designed with a fitted bodice of Nottingham lace, a high neckline and long tapered sleeves terminating in ruffled cuffs. The long satin-fabric organza skirt was accented with Venice lace appliques and the chapel train was encircled with a Nottingham lace flounce.

She wore a lace-edged veil, elbow length, secured to a lace headpiece.

Attendants Mrs. David Twyler, Miss Kathy Raynor, Miss Jacqueline Elliff, sisters of the bride, couple, and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Janet Raynor, also a sister of the bride, chose identical dotted voile gowns in rainbow colors of green, pink, blue and yellow. A white daisy trim enhanced their dresses, which featured flared sleeves and ruffled skirts.

The groom chose Larry Ruehlman as his best man. Daniel Burris, Michael Allen and Bruce Uzonoff, a cousin of the groom, served as groomsmen.

Escorting the guests to their seats were Dennis Foret, the bride's brother-in-law, and Michael Elliff, the groom's brother.

Mrs. Dennis Foret, a sister of the bride, attended the guest book at a reception held in the church fellowship hall following the service.

A rehearsal dinner was served in the home of the bride's parents.

The newly married couple is at home following a wedding trip to Chicago.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School in 1970. The bride is a 1972 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and was formerly employed as a secretary at the American Red Cross Midwestern Area office.

The groom graduated in 1974 from SIUE and is an assistant field director for the American Red Cross.

Marsha Gregory becomes Mrs. Edward R. Weston

Miss Marsha Gayle Gregory, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gregory, 216 S. 9th St. Wood River, and Edward R. Weston of Kansas City, Mo., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Riggs Weston of Tooele, Utah, formerly of Granite City, exchanged wedding vows on Aug. 30 at the First United Methodist Church in Wood River.

The Rev. E. B. Beatty, grandfather of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Wedding selections, "By My Side," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Perfect Love," "Light Everlasting," "God Be In My Head," were played by organist Mrs. Harry Hanson. Mrs. William Shortal was the soloist.

Bouquets of white mums decorated the altar, flanked with two candelabra holding burning tapers.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father, the bride wore a bouffant lace gown featuring a square neckline embroidered with seed pearls and sequins.

The long tapered sleeves were cuffed with a lace ruff, and the gathered skirt was formed of lace ruffled tiers, extending into a chapel train.

Her double cathedral veil of illusion was bordered with lace and attached to a camelot hat, embellished with pearls, and she carried a cascade of white butterfly roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Mrs. Frank Cornell, matron of honor, chose a open blue organza dress designed with a sweetheart neckline traced with a ruff. Ruffles extended down the bodice and skirt, encircled the hemline and accented the flared sleeves.

Bridesmaids Mrs. Larry Hutchison, a sister of the groom, Mrs. Robert Gregory, the bride's sister-in-law, Miss Gail Minert and Miss Cindy Solidat, appeared in identical dresses in powder blue.

Each wore a halo of fresh flowers in her hair and held a nosegay of blue and white Marguerite daisies with baby's breath.

The flower girl, Jenny Haycraft, was dressed in a white organza frock accented with a blue satin sash. She also wore blossoms in her hair and carried a basket of white daisies.

Timothy and Todd Hutchison, nephews of the groom, served as ringbearers.

The groom chose his brother-in-law, Larry Hutchison, as best man. Robert Gregory and Kevin Weston, brothers of the bride, Toby Meyers and Doug Winnett, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Gregory, mother of the bride, selected a long pink dress and lace jacket ensemble with matching accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Weston, was attired in a turquoise gown fashioned with a Y-neckline traced with rhinestone rosettes. Her accessories were in the same shade. Both mothers wore corsages of pink and white roses.

Miss Cheryl Taines and Mrs. Thomas Carroll attended the guest book at a reception held at the church after the service.

Parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner in the church hall, served by the Youth Fellowship members.

Following the ceremony, the Rev. William Fester, pastor of Nameoki United Methodist Church, and the Rev. LaVon Bayler of Wood River conducted a communion service.

The bride is a graduate of Wood River High School and Belleville Area College. Her husband was graduated from Granite City High School, and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a degree in business administration. He also attended the seminary at St. Paul School, Kansas City, Mo.

The bridegroom is an ordained deacon in the Southern Illinois Conference and works as pastor at Old Mission U.M.C., Kansas City, Kan.

Grants for jazz, ethnic musicians

The National Endowment for the Arts is accepting applications for the 1976 Jazz-Folk-Ethnic Music Program, according to the Office of Research and Projects of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Graduate School. Individuals of exceptional talent may be eligible for the following awards:

Jazz Category I—fellowship grants of up to $5,000 to composers and arrangers for creation of new works, completion of works in progress, and professional development.

Jazz Category II—grants of up to $5,000 to enable jazz instrumentalists and singers to advance and develop their careers as they see fit.

Jazz Category III—travel-study fellowships of up to $1,000 to enable young musicians to study and/or tour with professional artists or ensembles for short-term concentrated instruction and experience; and

Folk-Ethnic Category III—fellowships of up to $1,000 to enable individuals to study with master traditional artists.

Non-profit organizations may be eligible for the following programs:

Jazz Category IV—matching grants of up to $25,000 for jazz presentations, educational programs, short-term residencies by jazz specialists, and carefully planned regional or national festivals or tours.

Folk-Ethnic Category I—Matching grants of up to $25,000 for folk-ethnic musical presentations.

Folk-Ethnic Category II—matching grants of up to $15,000 for projects designed to document, preserve and disseminate living musical traditions.

The deadline for submission of applications in all categories is Oct. 1, 1975. Additional information and guidelines are available from the Office of Research and Projects at SIUE.

'Open university' classes will begin

A consortium of five colleges and universities in St. Louis and the neighboring Illinois area has completed plans for an "open university" studies program this fall featuring television and radio programming as aids to home study.

The colleges participating are University of Missouri-St. Louis, Webster University at Edwardsville, Lindenwood and Greenville. All are jointly offering the program to enable students to earn regular college credit through home study.

The courses offered, "Making Things Work: Man, Technology, and Environment" and "Humanities: A Foundation Course," will be offered beginning Sept. 20.

KETC, Channel 9, will televise materials for the courses from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Saturdays and on Tuesday nights from 6 to 7 p.m.

KWUM-FM will broadcast radio programs from 8 to 9 p.m. on Sundays and from 6 to 7 p.m. Wednesdays, to offer students a variety of times from which to select.

Dr. John Taylor, coordinator of the Open University project at SIUE, explains, "A student may choose to take one or both of the courses offered. Each will last for the entire academic year and carry either 16 semester hours or 24 quarter hours of regular academic credit. At some of the participating schools, students may enroll for non-credit participation."

Each campus will contain a learning center with audio-visual facilities where students can listen to tapes or watch films. Students also have an opportunity to discuss television and radio programs with faculty members and engage in discussions about texts and workbooks.

Dr. Taylor explained briefly the content of the two courses: "The humanities course is designed for all students interested in man, his history and his cultural achievement. It includes the study of history, literature, art and music. 'The technology course deals with the nature of technology and with the what, why, should and not merely the how of modern life,'" he said.

"Both courses are intended for the beginning student and are designed to teach students to write and read critically, to think clearly and logically and to handle theories and evidence with sophistication," he added.

Enrollment in the new fall program, based on the British Open Universities system, is open to high school graduates and others with the desire and maturity to work toward a college degree away from a college campus.

Workshop by Nurse School

The School of Nursing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold a workshop at Jacksonville State Hospital Sept. 24 from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. An overview of the nursing process will be the subject of the continuing education workshop.

Sister Marta Goski, assistant dean of the undergraduate program in the SIUE School of Nursing, will be the instructor. Participants will receive five continuing education units.

Registration for the workshop is $5. Deadline for registration is Sept. 17.

The same workshop will be held at two other locations in the state for those who would like to participate but are unable to attend the meeting at Jacksonville. A workshop is scheduled at Scott Air Force Base Oct. 28 and another at the Carbondale campus of Southern Illinois University Nov. 13.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the School of Nursing at SIUE.

Woman may choose her own last name

The custom of a woman assuming the name of her husband upon marriage is a tradition still practiced by most brides, though not binding on them. According to the Illinois State Bar Association, a woman may choose to maintain her maiden name.

Although she has this option, she should be aware of the possible complications which may arise in buying a home, filing income tax returns, and filling out forms in relation to her children, the ISBA advises.

Whichever name a woman chooses should be used consistently and never for the purpose of fraud or deception, it is stressed.

The Illinois State Bar Association also explains that a married woman may resume her maiden name or that of any former husband upon getting a divorce.

A woman using her married name who wishes to return to her maiden name while married may do so with a name change, which is accomplished by a court proceeding in the county in which the person resides.

The person desiring the name change must have been a resident of Illinois for at least six months.

Notice of the intended name change must be published in a newspaper of general circulation. Anyone may bring forth an objection to the proposed name change.

The process of changing one's name is relatively simple, but informing all interested parties—insurance companies, licensing agencies, mortgages—requires thoroughness to avoid future confusion, the ISBA concludes.

Intensive Nameoki program to combat threat of encephalitis

Nameoki Township is spraying against mosquitoes 16 hours each day, in some cases in areas not in the township, in order to help fight encephalitis in this area, Louis Whitsell, supervisor of Nameoki Township, told the township's Board of Auditors at the board's regular meeting Monday night.

Whitsell said the township is making every effort to help combat the disease, which is spread from birds to mosquitoes and then to humans bitten by mosquitoes.

"At times like this, we've all got to help each other. We have sprayed in other areas, simply because Chouteau Township has no equipment to spray for mosquitoes and other areas need help," the supervisor told the board, adding, "It's a necessity here. We've got an all-out program going."

He warned the board that the program probably will exceed the township's budget for possible mosquito control, since several repairs have been necessary to avoid equipment being out of operation for a long period.

"I will probably be back at the next meeting, asking you for money from the contingency fund to pay these bills," he said.

One pump broke and another pump had to be ordered and flown into St. Louis in order to get the program back under way.

The new pump then blew out several hoses because a regulator broke. The regulator and hoses also were repaired immediately under the supervisor's emergency powers.

Whitsell said employees obtained free-of-charge to the township under the county's Manpower grant have been used eight hours per day for mosquito spraying and an evening worker has been hired by the township to spray eight hours at night.

Manpower employees also are spraying larvicide on ponding areas, where mosquitoes may breed.

"We have stayed away from areas which may contaminate Long Lake and Horseshoe Lake," Whitsell noted.

The dangers of the spraying were noted, as Whitsell said the chemicals being used for spraying could harm the workers who use it or could be dangerous to children or animals if used wrongly.

He is spraying with malathion 2-5, that is approved by the Environmental Protection Agency to be non-toxic to animals and humans. However, we urge all residents to stay out of the direct line of spray.

"Furthermore, we request that children be warned of the danger of following the spray truck, because of the direct spray and of the potential traffic hazard," he explained.

Some residents complained of the danger, saying two cats, some fish and one tree were found dead, possibly as a result of the spraying.

Whitsell said that if animals drank water immediately after the larvicide had been sprayed on it, it could be fatal, but said the risks of the chemical are outweighed by the risks of encephalitis.

"The state of Illinois, Madison County and Nameoki Township are working together with hopes to conquer the encephalitis-carrying mosquitoes and, with the help of all residents, we should succeed in a few weeks," the supervisor noted.

He said the township's full schedule of mosquito control will be continued all this week. Then, if the encephalitis danger eases, cutbacks in the program will be considered.

The Board of Auditors agreed with Whitsell's feeling and requested that he expand the program to include the Grigsby Junior High School property, which is within the Granite City limits.

It was reported that numerous students are being bitten by mosquitoes during physical education classes each day.

A special request from B. J. Davis, superintendent of the Granite City schools, was read, asking the township to consider spraying at Grigsby.

Whitsell made an appeal to homeowners and property owners to be sure their property is free of standing water where mosquitoes can breed, or request the township to spray their property when water can not be removed.

State health officials have indicated the number of encephalitis cases seem to be decreasing, but the danger may not end until the first frost.

Compensation changes to be Oct. 17 topic

Latest changes in the Illinois unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation laws will be subject of a special day-long workshop Friday, Oct. 17, at Augustine's Restaurant, Belleville.

The workshop, sponsored by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, will run from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Experts in both unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation will discuss newest revisions in the laws, administrative procedures, rates, compliance requirements and employers' rights and obligations.

Workmen's compensation panelists are Ralph Miller, vice president, regulatory research and planning, Jewel Food Stores Division, Melrose Park; Thomas Nyhan, partner, Pope, Ballard, Shepard and Fowle, Chicago; and John Doyle, senior legislative analyst, American Mutual Insurance Alliance, Chicago.

Unemployment compensation panelists are: John Quirk, manager, payroll taxes, Sears, Roebuck and Co., Skokie; George Winks, attorney, Seyfarth, Shaw, Fairweather and Geraldson, Chicago; Roger Mather, vice president, Reed, Roberts & Associates, Inc., Chicago; and Leonard Day, ISCC labor relations manager.

For further information, Quad-Cityans may contact Frank M. Whittaker at the Illinois State Chamber, 20 N. Wacker Drive, Chicago 60606 (312-372-7373).

Mrs. Helen Ropac, 86, dies

Mrs. Helen (Gasparovic) Ropac, 86, of 1424 Iowa St., ill for two years, died Monday at the Jewish Hospital, St. Louis. She had been hospitalized for 13 days.

A native of Yugoslavia, Mrs. Ropac resided in the Quad-City area for 52 years. She was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church and also a 31-year member of the SNPJ Lodge Rajska Glas 250, S.N.P.J.

Her husband, Ivan Ropac, died July 11, 1960.

Survivors include two sons, Steve and John F. Ropac, both of Granite City; one daughter, Mrs. William (Anna H.) Mercer of Granite City; one sister, Mrs. Danica Hrejac of Yugoslavia; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today at St. Joseph's. Details are given in the obituary column.

Silas Milton dies in South

Funeral services were held Sept. 6 at the Anglin Memorial Chapel, Dover, Tenn., for Silas Milton, 72, a former 45-year resident of Granite City.

Mr. Milton died Sept. 4 at the Beverly Manor Nursing Home, Nashville, Tenn., where he had been a patient since March.

A native of Stewart County, Tenn., Mr. Milton returned to the Dover area about a year ago. He was a veteran of World War II and was a retired laborer.

Surviving are two sons, Odell and Elmer Milton, both of Granite City; two daughters, Mrs. Wanda LeMaster of Edwardsville and Mrs. Norma Lawson of Hartford, a sister, Mrs. Eula Farford of Oakland, Calif.; and 12 grandchildren.

Grandsons served as pallbearers at the funeral service, conducted by the Rev. Joe Moore. Burial was in Taylor's Chapel Cemetery, Route One, Dover.

Illinois has 2nd Darrow

By RAY SIERATI
SPRINGFIELD — There may be another Clarence Darrow making a name for himself, this time in the Illinois General Assembly.

Darrow is the Democratic representative in the Illinois House from Rock Island. He is related through his grandfather to the original trial lawyer of the famous Scopes-monkey trial.

Darrow is out to show people that government can work economically.

As a member of the House Appropriations Committee, he has found an area where he believes perhaps savings can be made — the State Board of Elections.

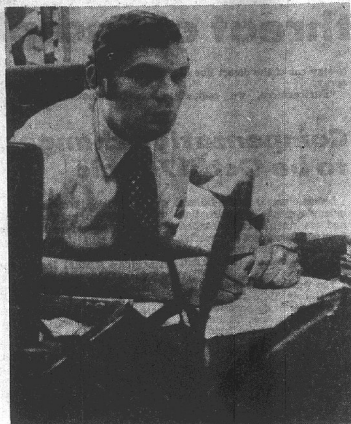

Darrow wants to return the work now being carried out by the Board to the Secretary of State's office where it was prior to the forming of the new agency.

The Board formulates rules and regulations governing elections in the state. Its formation was mandated through the 1970 State Constitution. It is a three-member panel.

Darrow says he became interested in the Board's activities when the House Appropriations Committee started work on a bill seeking some $4 million for the work of the agency. The General Assembly cut this sharply.

So to this end Darrow is proposing that a constitutional amendment be presented to the General Assembly which seeks to repeal the section of the constitution dealing with the Board of Elections.

"I have discussed the plan with several other freshmen members who are interested in economy," he says.

CLARENCE DARROW. The Illinois legislator is a relative of the late trial lawyer who gained fame in the early 1900s defending the teaching of evolution.

Darrow, also a freshman, is hoping for broad-based support for his move among Democrats as well as Republicans.

The lawmaker says he believes the work being done by the board could be carried out by the Secretary of State's office, which handled it prior to formation of the agency, at less expense.

Darrow says he doesn't want the agency's work transferred to the Secretary of State's Office just because the current holder of the office (Michael J. Howlett) is a Democrat.

"It was there before and now Howlett has a merit system," he says.

He says he agrees with the Board's concepts.

"For instance the financial disclosure rule is good. I don't want to see the financial disclosure law amended."

"But," Darrow adds, "all of this could be carried out under the Secretary of State's office."

Darrow says he feels such a proposal will have to be presented to the General Assembly next January. He doubts the Assembly will accept new legislative proposals for the session slated to start Oct. 22.

If Darrow is successful in getting the legislative proposal through both houses, it would have to be voted on by the people in the 1976 November general elections.

Darrow became interested in serving in the General Assembly at about the time the squabble was on over legislation forming the northeastern Illinois Regional Transportation Authority (RTA).

"I thought there were two things a person could do — sit back or get involved. I decided to get involved."

The former Rock Island County assistant state's attorney was born and reared in Dubuque, Iowa. In 1962, he went to Rock Island and shortly after that to the University of Illinois to get a master's degree in social work.

From Champaign-Urbana Darrow went to Aurora to work and commute to the Chicago-Kent College of Law. This took four and a half years.

He started to work in Aurora for the Children and Family Services Department. He stayed with the department for two years and then went into family counseling work in Aurora because this gave him more time to pursue his law degree.

After acquiring the law degree he and his wife and children returned to Rock Island.

Deferred fee, tuition plan

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a new deferred tuition and fee payment plan for the fall quarter.

It is designed to aid students who cannot pay the total amount of tuition and fees at the start of the term.

Under the new plan, a student will be able to defer paying tuition and fees until Nov. 6, according to John Jenette, assistant director in the Student Work and Financial Assistance Office.

Applications for deferment may be made in person between Sept. 17 and Sept. 24 at the Student Work and Financial Assistance Office.

Additional information on the new plan may be obtained by contacting the office in the basement of the General Office Building.

Final day of registration for the fall quarter is Sept. 18. First day of classes will be Sept. 22.

COLORFUL BANNERS are waved by this marching unit. The group accompanied the Granite City High School South band as it performed before the contest and at halftime of the Warrior-Steeler grid game. North was the "home team" for the competition, held at the stadium on Fehling Road.

Registration on college testing

The fall American College Testing Program (ACT) test will be given at Granite City High School South on Oct. 18. Registration will close on Sept. 22.

The test is required for admittance by most Illinois colleges as well as many other colleges throughout the country.

The fee for the test is $7.50. Application blanks are available in the Granite City High School South guidance office.

Sen. Percy urging eyeglass price cuts

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) on Monday urged the Federal Trade Commission to annul state laws that forbid price advertising of eyeglasses and frames.

"These arbitrary state laws have resulted in consumers paying from 25 per cent to 100 per cent more for eyeglasses," Percy charged in remarks prepared for delivery on the Senate floor.

Almost half the population of the United States—more than 100 million Americans—wear corrective lenses. By age 50, four out of five Americans wear glasses or contact lenses, he said.

"It is time that the FTC acted decisively to eliminate arbitrary government policies and regulations at all levels which serve only to raise prices to consumers," Percy said.

"At a time of high inflation and unemployment, our society can't afford to pay the excess amounts caused by government over-regulation, whether those regulations begin at the statehouse or in Congress," Percy added.

"Satisfactory eye care at reasonable prices should be a prime health objective for the nation."

"When state laws price gouging optical care out of reach of so many who need corrective lenses, for use on the highway, in the factory, in recreational areas and at home—those laws should be swept aside."

state restrictions which inflate consumer prices."

"In June, the commission proposed rules that would lift state price advertising restrictions on prescription drugs."

"The parallel is clear," Percy said. "But for some unexplained reason, the FTC failed to include prescription lenses in the same category as prescription drugs. It should correct this oversight immediately."

Percy noted, "In purely human terms, the surcharge caused by anti-competitive restrictions on price advertising on the books in 36 states have forced the indigent, the elderly and many middle-income Americans to wear outdated and ineffectual glasses, sometimes with scratched or broken lenses."

"Too many just can't afford the high prices charged today for lenses and frames."

Citing a "growing number of senior citizens in need of corrective lenses," Percy said, "We should hang our heads in shame when we hear that the elderly in Miami, Fla., for example, have been asked to will their eyeglasses to other senior citizens who can't afford to replace outdated prescription lenses."

"No one should have to depend on hand-me-downs from the deceased in order to see satisfactorily."

"The difference in price between retail pricing practices in states that forbid price advertising and neighboring states which permit advertising must be immediately addressed," Percy said.

The Illinois senator compared prices charged to consumers in Illinois, Oklahoma, Florida, Louisiana and California, which forbid price advertising, to those in adjacent states of Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, Arizona and Missouri, which permit price advertising.

Tours of the campus will be given from 3:30 until 4:30 p.m. for all interested parents. The day's activities will end with a free barbecue at Tower Lake at 4:30 p.m.

"Two years ago," Simon adds, "I would have supported withdrawal of some of our troops from Korea and Western Europe—and three or five years from now I may do it, too. But right now the world needs to see some patience and firmness on our part."

Simon observed at one point that he has returned from his trip abroad "a more informed member of Congress."

"As a member of Congress I will be voting on whether those troops should continue to be stationed in Korea, and on whether the U.S. should continue to provide military assistance to South Korea."

"How I vote," he continued, "on that could mean the loss of lives, or the saving of lives; or the stability and peace in Asia, or instability and the danger of war."

Parents Day at university

Parents Day will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Sunday, Sept. 21, from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. for the parents of entering freshmen and community college transfer students.

Husbands and wives of SIUE students also are invited.

Registration will be held in the University Center from 10 until 11:45 a.m.

A buffet brunch will be served in the University Club dining room between the hours of 10 a.m. and noon. The price of the brunch will be $2.45 for adults and $1.25 for children age 12 and under. Reservations would be appreciated but are not mandatory for the brunch.

Informational workshops will follow the brunch.

Parents will be able to attend workshops on student work and financial assistance, the classroom experience, social and recreational activities, future job market, housing, counseling and health services, using campus resources for solving disciplinary problems, higher education for adults, campus police protection and choosing the proper classes.

Representatives from university departments—including academic instructors, staff, office personnel, advisers and counselors, security officers and medical staff—will be in charge of the workshops.

Parents will be able to see what benefits SIUE offers their children and also find out about taking classes themselves, a spokesman said.

Tours of the campus will be given from 3:30 until 4:30 p.m. for all interested parents. The day's activities will end with a free barbecue at Tower Lake at 4:30 p.m.

Simon backs ties with South Korea

Congressman Paul Simon of New York has returned from his first overseas trip as a congressman convinced that the United States should not waver in its support of South Korea.

The Downstate Democrat and former lieutenant governor admits he thought otherwise before he came to Congress.

During the Congressional recess, Simon and 10 colleagues visited the Republic of Korea, Japan, Indonesia and the Philippines. It is South Korea that gives him pause.

For, as he says, among those who discuss foreign affairs the Middle East and Korea are seen as the potential starting points of World War III. The interests of four major powers converge on the Korean peninsula—the P.R.C.'s Republic of China, the Soviet Union, Japan and the United States.

The threat, as demonstrated in the Korean war of the 1950s, is invasion by Communist North Korea.

Should Premier Kim Il Sung of North Korea "misread" U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam as a "retreat into isolationism," the Communist leader might launch an attack.

"How can we avoid turning Korea into a war zone again?" Simon asks.

"The answer is to continue for a few years our U.S. troop presence and our commitment to use U.S. air and naval power if South Korea is invaded," says Simon.

"So long as we keep that commitment solid, it is unlikely North Korea will attack."

Simon emphasizes that the American commitment must be so credible that Premier Kim cannot possibly misjudge the U.S. position.

"Two years ago," Simon adds, "I would have supported withdrawal of some of our troops from Korea and Western Europe—and three or five years from now I may do it, too. But right now the world needs to see some patience and firmness on our part."

Simon observed at one point that he has returned from his trip abroad "a more informed member of Congress."

"As a member of Congress I will be voting on whether those troops should continue to be stationed in Korea, and on whether the U.S. should continue to provide military assistance to South Korea."

"How I vote," he continued, "on that could mean the loss of lives, or the saving of lives; or the stability and peace in Asia, or instability and the danger of war."

Air show at Scott Base

Scott Air Force Base will hold open house from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, featuring the "Thunderbirds" air show by the U.S. Air Force aerial demonstration team.

Staff Sergeant Michael C. Kimberlin, local Air Force recruiter, said the aerial show is scheduled for 3 p.m. and is open to the public, with no admission charge.

There will be exhibits and displays for public viewing throughout the day.

Park grant to Glen Carbon

Conservation Director Tony Dean has announced that an $8,500 grant to the village of Glen Carbon has been approved by the Illinois Department of Conservation.

The grant is a 50 per cent reimbursement for purchase of 17.5 acres near the center of the village for development as a community park.

The money is from a state fund created by the State Open Space Land Acquisition Act, which allows the state to reimburse local governments for a large percentage of costs incurred in expanding local park acreage.

"The state's Open Space Land Acquisition grant program is a good example of the use of citizen's tax money to meet public needs," Dean said.

The Glen Carbon acquisition was one of 70 projects from 53 communities, townships, counties, park districts, forest preserves and conservation districts approved for a share in the $5 million available from the fund for the 1975-76 fiscal year.

Services are held for Vernal Woods

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at a Granite City funeral home for Vernal "Woody" Woods, 52, of 4815 Wabash Ave., a lifelong resident of Granite City. He died at 8:35 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 7.

Mr. Woods was employed for 28 years as a crane operator at Granite City Steel. He was a member of the United Steelworkers.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Elsie Woods; four children, Wayne, Rudolph, Charles, and Mrs. Jimmy (Debbie) Johnson of Marshall, Mo.; Karen Woods of the U.S. Navy, now stationed in Spain, and Ed Woods of Granite City; and two brothers, John E. Woods of Tennessee and Robert Woods of Granite City. Burial was at Sunset Hill Cemetery.

Improvements at 1976 River Fest will include more seating, walks, parking

Several improvements for the 1976 season of the Mississippi River Festival are being planned while officials continue to evaluate the 1975 season, which drew a record-breaking attendance of 225,311.

The eight-week festival of music, dance, films, art and crafts closed Aug. 25 on an absolute minimum.

SIUE President John S. Rendleman, credited with the programming for the record-breaking crowds this year.

"The programming was superb, with great appeal for a wide variety of musical and artistic tastes," the president said. "I am not surprised that the average attendance was up in nearly every category."

According to Ward, the films were the only events which enjoyment will be further enhanced by the presence of more uniformed security officers at rock concerts.

"Violations and crowd problems were not proportionately excessive this year, but it is our objective to reduce the possibility of problems to an absolute minimum."

SIUE President John S. Rendleman, credited with the programming for the record-breaking crowds this year.

"The programming was superb, with great appeal for a wide variety of musical and artistic tastes," the president said. "I am not surprised that the average attendance was up in nearly every category."

According to Ward, the films were the only events which failed to draw a higher average attendance than in previous years.

The Eagles music group attracted the peak of the season with a total attendance of 26,698.

Pres. Rendleman also expressed "great hope" for the future of the festival. "I think we have proved that the university can produce and manage the festival with success," he said.

"And I believe our seven years of experience and growing expertise in this field will enable us to develop even greater festivals in the future."

Ward said this year's emphasis on family-oriented arts, presentations of a wide variety of arts, and educationally-related activities and events will be accentuated next year.

"We were pleased with the response to our program innovations this year," the managing director said, "and we plan to respond by offering more programming of this type next year."

The managing director said contract negotiations have been started for 1976, and groups being booked include a 300-voice choir from Scotland.

He said the season will start earlier but the number of events probably will be about the same, with less concentration of nightly programs.

Ward said the MRF board of directors will meet Oct. 3 and a financial statement and further plans for next year will be announced at that time.

Dollar amount, annual percentage rate enable credit cost comparison

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser-Home Economics

Used with care and understanding, consumer credit can work for you. Used carelessly, it can create problems with personal or family finances.

To save money shop thoughtfully for all items purchased—including credit.

Wise consumers shop for credit in the same way they shop for any other item or service to be purchased.

The Truth-in-Lending law, officially titled the Federal Consumer Credit Protection Act of 1969, makes it easier to shop for credit today than several years ago. This law makes it simpler to compare costs of credit from different sources. It also helps you know the exact charge for the use of credit.

When you comparison-shop for credit, two important things to learn about the finance charges are the dollar amount and the annual percentage rate.

The dollar amount includes the total charges in dollars that you must pay for credit.

It includes such costs as interest, service or carrying charge; loan fees; and premiums for credit life insurance or other insurance that may be required as a condition for getting credit.

The annual percentage rate is the cost of credit in percentage terms. It gives you a way of comparing credit costs regardless of the dollar amount of those costs or the length of time over which payments are made.

By knowing the dollar cost of credit and the annual percentage rate, you are better able to decide if you can afford to use credit and which source has the best terms. Comparison shopping for credit may save you cash.

The Truth-in-Lending law requires that creditors must make known to borrowers the total finance charge, both in terms of the total dollar amount and the annual percentage rate.

The consumer's cost of obtaining credit may vary from one source to another, depending on the type and amount of the loan, the amount of risk the lender takes, and the special requirements of the lender.

To shop for credit, compare charges among different sources. Purchase credit where the terms and conditions best suit your needs.

For more information, see "Consumer Credit: Uses, Costs, Laws," available from the Madison County Extension Service office and written especially for Illinois residents.

Comment and analysis

Sept. 11, 1975

Lack of university board attuned to this metropolitan area is a proper concern not resolved by Sept. 5 veto

The lot of a governor is not an easy one, despite the pay, prestige and prerogatives. An example is the university board legislation acted upon Sept. 5 by Gov. Daniel Walker, who had heard both viewpoints and obviously could not please everyone.

Whether or not his veto of a second Southern Illinois University trustee board was proper, it is our impression that he may have decided what to do based on an inappropriate set of reasons.

In a direct discussion in his office with those urging signing of the bill to grant autonomy to SIU at Edwardsville and separate it from SIU at Carbondale, the governor made references to university planes and autos, stressing that "many college vice-presidents drive around in bigger autos than your governor."

His meaning was that he has set an economy example he would like to see followed, but that it is sometimes ignored. The point is worthwhile, but it is SIUC, not SIUE, that has aircraft, and SIUE spokesmen say they have no lavish policies regarding university cars.

Also on the subject of economizing, it was contended by a citizen group that eliminating one of SIU's three administrations could bring big savings; the three serve SIUC, SIUE and the Board of Trustees. Gov. Walker said he was sure the citizen group could offer no proof of future savings; he added that it has been his experience that spending always tends to rise even when there is administrative streamlining.

He may be correct, but the size of the SIU board staff and its budget are clearly excessive when compared to other Illinois schools. And there is considerable duplication or triplication of effort.

The governor stressed several times that he would not make a "political decision," and speculated that the path of political wisdom might be to sign rather than veto. But although there is sentiment here for separate SIU boards, the view is not unanimous; and the governor may have won friends elsewhere by his decision to follow the wishes of the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

The IBHE played its cards in an interesting fashion, remaining silent at the hearings on the legislation while maneuvering behind the scenes to impede its passage with amendments, all of which were defeated.

If the IBHE had serious objections — such as the bond retirement procedure cited for the first time in the veto message — it might have been more constructive to air them during the General Assembly's deliberations rather than two months after the adjournment.

We suspect that the appointed IBHE is jealous of its power over the direction of higher education, not wanting to share it with such "inferiors" as elected state representatives and senators. And we suspect that the governor views the state board as a useful tool for a number of purposes, including taking some of the "heat" away from him by handling hatchet work on proposed expenditures.

In fairness to the governor, he has only 24 hours in the day, like anyone else, and has such a big workload that he must rely to the greatest extent on the quality of the staff work and advice submitted to him. At least he was willing to listen to both sides. In fairness to his staff, there are valid arguments against fragmentation.

Proponents of a separate board recognize such arguments but feel the situation is unique; the present and future needs of the state's No. 2 population concentration — Macdonald-St. Clair counties — are so important as to require a university board sympathetic with and focused on those needs.

The issue remains alive. Also alive is the continuing study over whether the awkward Board of Higher Education domain — an overlapping mixture of colleges, universities and system boards — can or should endure for years.

There currently are too many stifling layers — too many separations of authority from responsibility — too many lapses of effective communication and understanding. The issue of two extremes — a single statewide university or a single state entity monitoring the performance of many relatively autonomous, decentralized universities — might be preferable from economy and efficiency standpoints to the status quo.

Needless hardship for citizens awaiting utility lines

When the City of Granite City acted in June to require all utilities to provide 30-day advance notice of street excavations to install, repair or replace lines or cables, the principal discussion dealt with officials' desire to be aware of potential traffic obstructions and well informed on neighborhood improvement projects.

While this is desirable, the permit system in effect for some time may not be the best way to accomplish the objective.

It is logical for the municipal government to want to know of traffic hazards, to inspect filled-in excavation areas and to charge a fee to finance the inspections. But to prevent needless maintenance and extension of utility systems — the consequence if there was an absence of permission to excavate — would be a serious matter and is probably best contemplated by the city.

Nevertheless, the law remains on the books. Another shortcoming of the permit procedure, now that the 30-day waiting period has been added, is that new customers must wait at least a month to obtain essential utility services. Inconvenience and downright hardship for the public appear to be the certain, although unintended, result.

Revision of the ordinance is urged.

Ford delegate drive in state

By BOB ESTILL

SPRINGFIELD — U. S. Sen. Charles Percy is taking a leading role in an effort to line up Illinois delegates to the 1976 Republican National Convention for President Ford.

Percy is inviting about 150 Illinois GOP political, business and labor leaders to a private meeting Sept. 21 at the Barrington home of railroad car manufacturer Richard Duchossois.

Purpose of the gathering is to discuss how to go about electing Illinois delegates committed to Ford in next year's primary election. In the invitation, Percy notes he has discussed the meeting with the "White House and top leadership of President Ford's campaign staff" and expects their participation.

Howard "Bo" Calloway, who is directing Ford's election campaign, and Donald Rumsfeld, the former Illinois congressman now serving as Ford's chief of staff, have been asked to sit in on the meeting, according to a Percy aide. He said the President also has been invited, but it is not known if he will attend.

Illinois fifth most populous state in the nation, will be vital to the President's campaign and there are indications former California Gov. Ronald Reagan may use it as one of his testing grounds.

The Percy-called conclave at Barrington apparently is an attempt to get the state's political apparatus solidly behind Mr. Ford before the Reagan people start moving. Percy's motives in calling the meeting have been questioned privately by some Republicans who suspect he may have personal ambitions still burning.

The state's senior senator has said he has shelved his own plans to make a try for the nomination and instead would support Mr. Ford. He also supported Rockefeller in Illinois in 1968 when Rockefeller's Illinois supporters were few and far between.

But there are those who see Percy's Barrington gathering as an attempt to keep his own name up front if someone else should happen to Rockefeller.

One Republican leader here suggested the Illinois delegates Percy is talking about might wear "Ford" labels, but "Percy" would be printed underneath. The labels would give him bargaining strength if an opening should be presented.

Illinois delegate candidates run either as committed to one presidential aspirant or uncommitted. Yet even if they run committed, delegates are not bound to vote for that presidential prospect at the convention. Once elected, delegates can vote as they choose.

TAX FACTS Housing credit explained

Q. I have just sold for $40,000 an old residence that cost me $25,000 and am reinvesting the proceeds in a new principal residence qualifying for the housing credit under the Tax Reduction Act of 1975. The total credit (including closing costs) is $50,000. Does the sale of my old residence affect the amount of the credit I am entitled to? — Mr. J.W., Austin, Tex.

A. Yes, if the gain on the sale of your old residence is recognized as gain under the law, the cost of your new residence is reduced in determining the adjusted basis on which the credit is calculated. Therefore, the adjusted basis is $35,000 ($50,000 minus the unrecognized gain of $15,000) and the credit allowed is $17,500.

Congress travel broadening — for some, at least

By BENJAMIN SHORE WASHINGTON — Around 200 years ago the English essayist Samuel Johnson wrote: "The use of traveling is to regulate imagination by reality, and instead of thinking long things may be, to see them as they are."

As Congress returns to Washington from its August recess, much will be written about the legislators who traveled abroad at government expense. The legislators will call their traveling "fact-finding." Critics in the press and elsewhere will use the label "junket."

There clearly is a lot of unnecessary travel by members of Congress at taxpayers' expense, and junket is a properly pejorative word for it.

Doing and thinking about long things may be, to see them as they are. With the world rapidly becoming a global community, where nations are increasingly tied to each other through trade, defense and other factors — "reality," as Johnson's description of the value of travel seems especially appropriate.

And with members of Congress voting on issues — domestic as well as foreign — that affect international relations, getting around to see just what the rest of the world is doing and thinking about seems like a good idea.

The only problem, of course, is that not all legislators view their opportunity for free travel this way. Instead of trying to discover Johnson's "reality," and apply such knowledge to their decisions on legislative issues, too many simply seek a relaxing good time in Hong Kong, London and Paris at public expense.

According to a recent Congressional Quarterly Survey of congressional travel, the number of legislators who traveled abroad in 1974 declined sharply from the 1973 level. CQ makes no conclusions, but one might be that some politicians hesitate to travel during election years.

The survey found that 193 representatives and senators went abroad last year, compared to 259 in 1973. There are 535 members of Congress, so a lot of them never left the country, and it's too bad.

Take Rep. John McCall. This California Democrat, who has represented his predominantly rural district for over 18 years, is chairman of the Transportation Appropriations subcommittee. It is impossible to know, but seeing the efficient high-speed trains of Japan or London's Metro might give McCall some fresh ideas for his own country.

Housing, public health, environmental controls, education — the list of challenges common to all developed nations is long.

World travel — from U.S. imports of oil and other crucial resources to exports of wheat and industrial equipment — is something that policy makers should talk to each other about.

If Congress wants to play a greater role in the making of U.S. foreign policy, then, to paraphrase Samuel Johnson, its members ought to get out of Washington occasionally to see things as they are, not just pontificate on Capitol Hill about how they would like things to be.

But so long as there are representatives and senators who abuse their travel privileges, who claim they are fact-finding when they are really having an expensive vacation on the taxpayers' bill, it will be difficult to convince many conscientious legislators to get out and see what's happening and to talk with their foreign counterparts who are "making things happen."

Bicentennial is cited time for soul-searching

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK — The nation's religious establishment is trying to make the Bicentennial celebration an occasion for soul-searching and repentance.

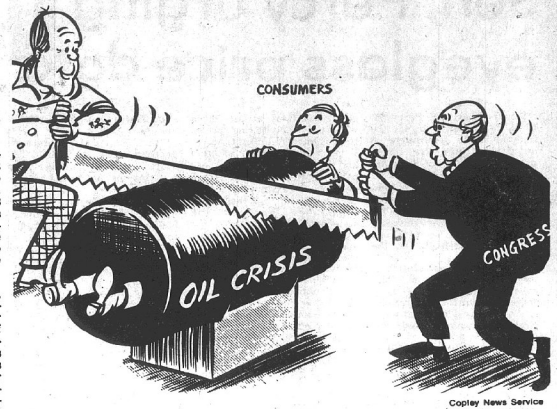

Churchmen of major religious bodies are urging that the 200th anniversary be approached with reverence, rather than boister, and that exploiters be discouraged from selling patriotism at a profit.

The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. declared positive involvement of Presbyterians in the nation's revolutionary beginnings "must be balanced by an honest recognition that during the last 200 years our thought and actions as a church have also been supportive of morally indefensible positions."

"In theology and ecclesiastical practice," the assembly said, "many of our forebears accepted and supported the continuation of slavery, the exclusion of women from citizenship and the perpetuation of economic practices that are the dark underside of our economic well-being."

Similar in tone was a statement by the Rev. Dr. Robert W. Moss, president of the United Methodist Church, who said, "Facing up to the past is essential for any society that wants to be open," he said. It would be a mistake, in Moss's view, to approach the Bicentennial with nostalgia.

The United Methodist Church is looking at the present rather than the past in one of its major emphases — the Bicentennial celebration of Italian, Poles, Irish, Germans, Jews, Swedes, French, blacks and others to American freedom.

"We'll solve it...one way or another!"

Tell Congress of citizens' views

To the Editor:

This is an open letter to the residents of Granite City and environs concerning a subject almost in my heart, and it should be utmost in the hearts of all readers.

As we, the people, possess, we share the equal responsibility of total and eternal vigilance, as quoted by our founding fathers themselves.

"We have today given you freedom, but the prime responsibility of maintaining it is eternal vigilance."

Can we maintain this responsibility? I, for one, am optimistic. I feel that we must and can.

There is an organization called 900-10 Action Plan whose goals reflect our great heritage in an age of confusion, despair and outright cynicism.

Where are there other team captains? I want to step down and turn the reins over to you.

Our goals are: 1) Inform the voters each month, by district, of previous or pending legislation in the House of Representatives which will affect the spending of tax money, or the direction of national policy.

2) Allow voters to express their opinion on the legislation.

3) Put these opinions on the desk of the representative from that district.

4) Inform voters how their representative voted on the bill.

This is the first united effort known of on such a scale of national magnitude.

Readers, do you want representative government? Do you want less deficit spending? Do you want retention of the Panama Canal? A strong defensive posture to eliminate the weak hemisphere defense? Government pay raises — where do you stand? Israel and the Middle East?

All these issues affect your lives. You cannot circumvent them.

It is not my government, but yours. Show that you care.

Readers, don't let congress govern us by default to the special interest and pressure groups.

We must be the only "special interest group," the biggest lobby of them all — the American People.

If anyone is so inclined, they may call me at 877-2074 and I'll see if I can get them started. But I want dedicated people.

We are working for no pay. We believe that freedom is pay enough.

To the timid, let me say that, I will gladly explain anything and everything.

We are not subversive, because subversives get support from un-American organizations.

The moment we begin to do not believe or doubt the goals of our organization, I would quit.

But this plan will work — it is working now. Be alert. Be informed. Responsible.

Congressmen want the public to tell them how they should vote.

Favors repeal of postal legislation

To the Editor:

Like a vulture hovering over a dying animal, Congressmen, their political appointees, and federal government employee unions hover over the mortally wounded taxpayer.

The problem seems to be that the Administration authorized a pay increase which is only 58 percent of what is wanted as a salary increase. They apparently are satisfied with their annual cost-of-living increases.

The difficulty that Congress sees is how the greater salary increase will affect chances for re-election.

Has it ever occurred to anyone in Washington that they should be asking, "Is this pay raise and annual cost-of-living increase in the country's best interests, regardless of the amount?"

The Administration has already ripped off the American public by the signing of the Postal Service bill, and President Carter has signed the law on Aug. 10. So aren't we simply just considering a minor degrees?

Congress and the Administration appear to feel that the American public is stupid.

I feel that Congress and the Administration have greatly underestimated the ability of Americans to unite when their family financial security is in danger.

I believe the public is no longer going to sit idly and quietly by while political ad-

ministries in Congress and the self-interest are considered more important to politicians than to act in the best interests of our country and for our people.

If there is even the remote possibility that someone in Washington believes in the concept of public service, public truth and honesty, I hope that they will have the courage and political astuteness, not to mention the common sense, to introduce a bill to repeal these pertinent sections of the "postal safety law," for if not there may well be a "political revolution" in 1976 through 1980.

Shriver seen as possible Illinois primary candidate

By KEN WATSON

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois Democrats, who already have accumulated enough problems so far as 1976 is concerned, may have another in the developing presidential bid of Sargent Shriver, a former Chicagoan.

Shriver, who ran for vice president on the ill-fated 1972 Democratic ticket with Sen. George McGovern, could be an entry in next spring's Illinois presidential primary.

Such a situation could cause complications for both U.S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson and Gov. Dan Walker. Stevenson has talked seriously about trying for the presidential nomination and Walker is already regarded as having Illinois hopes.

Neither could be expected to please with Shriver's entry to capture the Illinois primary spotlight. There is a strong possibility that Stevenson's name will be on the Illinois presidential ballot, probably with the approval of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley. Walker, it is assumed, will be occupied with the primary fight for governor and will defer any political or presidential maneuvering until the national nominating convention.

Stevenson so far has not committed himself to a primary test in his home state, but the entry of Shriver or some other of the mentioned Democratic presidential possibilities into Illinois might force his hand.

Shriver would be a major problem for several reasons. First, although he now lives in the east, he has strong Illinois ties because of having served for a time as president of the Chicago Board of Education and as manager of the Board of Trade building in Chicago.

He also campaigned extensively in Illinois during the 1972 campaign and has good name recognition statewide. McGovern and Shriver lost Illinois to President Nixon and Vice President Spiro Agnew by 874,707 votes in that year of an overall GOP landslide.

Such a showing was not bad when one considers that Democratic candidates for the U.S. Senate and attorney general in Illinois both lost by well over a million votes.

Shriver has taken pains to speak nothing but well of Daley and might receive some support from the mayor should Stevenson take himself out of the presidential picture.

Not to be overlooked is Sargent's brother-in-law link to the still politically potent Kennedy clan. If Sen. Edward Kennedy sticks to his intentions not to be a candidate, the huge reservoir of party support now reserved for Kennedy presidential bid convincingly could be transferred to a Shriver candidacy.

Despite his long absence from Illinois Shriver probably is more popular among fellow Democrats now than was the case years ago. A Shriver boomlet for the 1968 presidential nomination made no headway in many of the state's Democrats remembered his role in an abortive "dump Kerner" movement four years previously.

Shriver participated, or at least let his name be used, in a movement stemming mainly from outside Illinois to replace then Gov. Otto Kerner as the party's 1964 gubernatorial nominee. The movement proceeded so far as to have arrangements made for producing Shriver for governor bumper stickers.

But all that is now water over the political dam and Kerner's subsequent conviction and imprisonment on a series of federal charges washed away the old animosity against Shriver.

A parade of other potential Democratic presidential possibilities into Illinois has failed to arouse any party enthusiasm. Furthermore, a former Illinoisan on the national ticket might help a Democratic state ticket which appears to be facing a tough fight next year.

Financial aid available to students

Financial aid is still available to assist students entering Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville during the fall quarter, according to John Jennetten, assistant director of the office of Student Work and Financial Assistance.

A sizeable number of part-time student positions on campus also are available, Jennetten said.

Entering students are eligible to interview for positions prior to registration. A student worker can expect to earn approximately $1,700 during the school year, working 20 hours a week, Jennetten said.

Students who have not attended a college or university before April 1973 are eligible to apply for the Basic Grant Program. The maximum grant for in-state residents is $1,038 and, for out-of-state students,

In-state undergraduates are being urged to apply for Illinois State Scholarships to cover the cost of tuition and fees.

Students who are in financial need may also secure Illinois-guaranteed or federally-insured loans by making application through a participating bank, Jennetten said.

Students applying late for such assistance can obtain a 44-day deferred payment of tuition and fees.

Further information about programs available for students attending SIUC can be obtained by contacting the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance.

Students in need should apply immediately, since there are deadlines on some grant and scholarship programs, Jennetten emphasized.

Professional state theater is formed

Archibald McLeod, who retired Aug. 31 from the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale theater department chairmanship, will soon realize a longtime dream. On Nov. 1 he will become executive secretary of a new Illinois State Theater Corporation.

It is an organization he has visualized and sought to coax into being for almost three decades.

The new corporation, composed of theater and drama department heads at Illinois public and private colleges and universities, is organized to plan, develop and operate a state theater staffed by professionals.

Purpose is to provide graduate internships to outstanding theater students from member schools, giving them a year of professional experience before they tackle the professional stage.

McLeod has pushed the idea of a state theater almost since the time he came to SIUC 28 years ago.

In 1974 he received a $6,274 grant from the SIUC-C Academic Excellence Fund to get a Cooperative Inter-University State Theater Company project off the drawing board and into action.

The Illinois Board of Higher Education has approved the undertaking and has approved a $3,000 grant for the fledgling organization.

It also has authorized a $10,000 fund for its first full year of operation, starting next June.

The executive committee of the corporation, in addition to McLeod, includes Paul Brady, University of Illinois; Guy Romans, Sangamon State University; Neil S. Governor's State University; Ted Huppel, Knox College; and Nan McCarter, College of St. Francis, Joliet.

Other members of the group thus far are Eastern Illinois University, Northern Illinois University, Illinois State Normal University and Northwestern University.

Under the corporation's charter, each participating institution will sponsor one State Theater production on its campus each year and will contribute $500 from the proceeds to the corporation's treasury.

McLeod said that, for the present, he will maintain an office at SIUC, but eventually he anticipates that the corporation will set up quarters elsewhere, at the location not affiliated with any of the member institutions.

McLeod went to SIUC in 1947 as professor of speech and shortly thereafter became chairman of the university's newly-organized theater department.

Under his direction, the department developed a full range of professional courses in the theater—acting, directing, costume design, make-up, scene design, playwriting, and choreography, will soon realize a longtime dream. On Nov. 1 he will become executive secretary of a new Illinois State Theater Corporation.

Pickpocket active

Two customers at Schermers Brothers Supermarket, 1125 Madison Ave., were relieved of their wallets by a pickpocket operating in the store during the weekend.

Mary Danheiser, 10, University Drive, Mitchell, reported the loss of a black billfold from her purse; the wallet contained $55 cash, keys, charge cards and personal papers.

Mrs. Juanita Judy, 2138a State St., lost her wallet containing $45.

A shopper who saw a man looking through a billfold and then leave it on a shelf reported the incident, and the empty wallet was returned to Mrs. Judy.

J. B. PARMLEY'S ANNOUNCE BIRTH OF TWIN GIRLS

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Braden Parmley, 4327 Kathy Drive, are announcing the arrival of twin daughters, Nicole Anne, who weighed six pounds, one-half ounce, and Kristina Lynn, who weighed six pounds, 13 ounces.

Mrs. Parmley is the former Debbie Ball, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ball of St. Louis. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Parmley, reside in Granite City.

Great-grandparents are Mr. J. L. Braden and Mrs. N. L. Parmley, both of Granite City, and Mr. and Mrs. James McClelland Sr. of Indianapolis, Ind.

29 million veterans include 13 million in World War II

Thirty years after the end of World War II—and despite two wars since that time—men and women of that "granddaddy" of all armed conflicts still comprise 46 per cent of America's veteran population of 29.5 million.

World War II came to an end Sept. 2, 1945, when the formal surrender was signed aboard the U.S.S. Missouri, 2½ weeks after hostilities had ceased.

Veterans Administration records show 13,586,000 veterans are still alive out of the 16,535,000 who saw service at some time between Sept. 16, 1949, and July 25, 1967, the period on which eligibility for most World War II benefits is based.

More than 466,000 died while still in uniform. Over 3,230,000 World War II veterans receive help from the VA for disabilities—58 per cent of all veterans to whom VA makes disability payments. Of this number, 1,385,000 have disabilities resulting from military service.

The massive manpower needs of World War II resulted in more than twice as many men being in uniform at one time than had served during the previous 170 years of American history.

Even after the huge call-ups for the wars in Korea and Vietnam, those who served during World War II still constitute over a third of the 44.5 million Americans who have borne arms at any time since the first action by the Minutemen.

Living World War II veterans are 30 per cent of that total. The way World War II has overshadowed all other wars can be shown in the magnitude of the tragedy it brought to America, as well as in the number of participants.

Major battles were fought on three continents and in oceans around the world, and American battle deaths were nearly 2½ times the combined totals of those in World War I, Korea and Vietnam, which were narrowly restricted geographically by comparison.

World War II veterans were the first to benefit from training and housing programs designed to make readjustment to civilian life easier and to help veterans establish careers and start family life.

These programs have since been made available to Korean and Vietnam war veterans.

Slightly more than 50 per cent of the 15-44 million eligible World War II veterans used the right to GI Bill training, with 2,300,000 enrolling in college. All GI Bill training for World War II service ended in 1956.

GI home loans worth more than $45 billion have helped 5.7 million World War II veterans solve their housing needs. This benefit is still available to those who served in World War II, as well as later conflicts.

About 3.5 million men and women of World War II and the period immediately following still carry life insurance policies issued when they were in service. Face value of the policies is more than $34 billion.

The VA estimates that services and payments to World War II veterans have cost more than $113 billion.

This is twice the cost of help for veterans of World War I, a conflict that has been over for 57 years and is the second costliest war in terms of veterans' benefits.

The World War II figure is 47 per cent of the total that has been spent by the VA and predecessor agencies for veterans programs since the nation was founded.

That figure is now approximately $240 billion. VA expenditures this year will push the total well past the quarter-trillion-dollar mark before the U.S. bicentennial is reached next summer.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Richard L. Roudsbush has cited this fact several times in recent speeches to national veterans' conventions and has noted that the VA will probably be called on to spend as much during the next 12 to 15 years as was spent during the first 200.

He points out that VA's budget is now at the $18 billion a year level and that the number of living veterans is the largest in history.

The large number of World War II veterans will be needing more and more medical and financial help as they grow older, he says, as will the nearly five million Korean veterans who are only a few years younger.

Readjustment help for the 7.5 million Vietnam era veterans will continue for a few more years and general services will continue then for the nearly one million World War I veterans still surviving.

Roudsbush says that those who call veterans' benefits "a part of the cost of war" are seeing only part of the picture.

The cost of helping veterans is also part of the cost of having a free, fair and decent society—one that recognizes the contributions of its citizens and assists them when they have sacrificed for the common good," according to Roudsbush.

The VA estimates that 4,362,000 World War II veterans will still be living at the beginning of the 21st Century. Assistance for those who served in World War II and their dependents will go on past the middle of the next century, however, if the history of other wars is a good indicator.

The last veteran of the War of 1812 died in 1965 and the last dependent of a veteran of that war died at the end of World War II, in 1946.

The last Mexican War veteran died in 1929 and the last dependent died as men moved into Vietnam in 1962. The last Union veteran died after the end of the Korean war, in 1956, and the last Confederate veteran died in 1959. Today, 110 years after the end of the Civil War, there are still 300 widows and children of veterans from that war on the VA's pension rolls.

HURT AS CAR HITS GATE

Robert Dant, 52, of 1715 Third St., Madison, was injured early this week when his auto struck a gate near the Granite City Steel Blast Furnace Division after being forced off the road by another vehicle near the intersection of Nameoki and Edwardsville Roads. He was x-rayed and then released from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Elect first officers

Louis Ybarra was elected president of the Mexican Honorary Youth Group, a new branch of the Mexican Honorary Commission, during the youth group's second meeting, held at the Commission Hall, 1801 Spruce St. Other officers elected were: Karen Simpson, vice-president; Lynn Ybarra, secretary, and Lisa Ybarra, treasurer.

The charter officers were installed immediately and conducted the remainder of the meeting.

Decisions reached by voting included dues of 50 cents per month and setting the meeting date as the last Sunday of each month. The members agreed to have snacks served on a volunteer basis following each meeting.

Four members were named to a bylaws committee — David Lopez, Louis Ybarra, Vincent Martinez and Karen Simpson. The committee was charged with drafting proposals which will be voted upon at the next meeting.

A car wash was selected as the group's first fund-raising event Sept. 13 at the Yates Mobile service station, Pontoon and Nameoki roads, from noon to 7 p.m.

Tickets, available from any member, cost $1.25 for cars and $1.75 for trucks, and include interior and exterior cleaning. Tickets also will be available at the event.

The officers noted that membership in the youth group is open to any area resident between the ages of 13 and 18. Information on the group's activities is available from Johnny Valencia at 931-5742, Lisa Garcia at 877-0280 or Gloria Garcia at 876-1490.

Interested persons also may attend the next meeting at 1 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 28, at the Commission Hall.

Puppies, kittens at pet adoption clinic

"Sheba," a female part-Collie dog which loves children, will be among the pets available for adoption Saturday and Sunday at the Quad-City Association for Protection of Animals (APA) adoption clinic at the Granite City Flea Market, 3675 Nameoki Road.

Several puppies and kittens also will be offered the public between the hours of 10 a.m. and 9 p.m. Saturday and from noon until 7 p.m. on Sunday.

A nominal adoption fee is asked from those accepting a pet, with the funds used to aid the animals left in the APA's care, Mrs. Mary Ann Loftus, clinic supervisor, said today.

The APA is a non-profit volunteer organization funded solely with donations, personal gifts and adoption fees, she explained.

"Sheba is a pretty dog and loves kids. She is medium size with sable and white Collie markings," Mrs. Loftus said. Three male puppies, whose mother is a full-blooded blue tick hound, will be offered and also an adult shaggy white cockapoo dog.

Among the felines available are a young Siamese and a white, blue-eyed Persian.

Two cats which have been mistreated will not be brought to the public clinic but prospective owners may see the animals in a series of photographs, Mrs. Loftus said.

Student proficiency, communications goals of federal programs in Venice

Althea A. Cross, director of the Title VII Project Micro, Venice Community Unit School District, and Barbara Bailey, reading teacher in the program, are attending a U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare conference for Emergency School Aid Act projects funded in Region V for 1975-76 Monday through tomorrow in Arlington Heights.

The school district was awarded funds for two programs. The basic program has three goals:

1. To improve the achievement of district students in reading.

2. To improve the achievement of district students in mathematics.

3. To improve interpersonal relations and communications among the students, staff and community.

The pilot program is designed to aid in the prevention of students from becoming dropouts by raising their average daily attendance to their assigned classes and by aiding them in forming and working toward career goals.

The teachers of reading are Barbara Bailey, Rogers Mefford, Mary Donna Scaturro, Mary Shaw and Dorothy Smith. The teachers of mathematics are Al DeLay, Kathy Fields and Robert McKinney.

For the pilot program, the counselor is Georgia Talwell and the social worker is Janis Carney.

The secretary for Project Micro is Helen Pler. The aides are Tommie Bailey, Kim Bathon, Venus Gardner, Donna Hoover, Linda Marcus, Roslyn Morgan, Sondra Pumpfrey, Irene Taylor, Teresa Wallace and Carol Williams.

Through the two programs, the staff—with the cooperation of other district personnel—hopes to provide "worthwhile and profitable experiences for the district students," the director reports.

The pilot team will be visiting the homes of students in grades 7-12 to explain rules and regulations of the Venice grade school and high school.

LEEVEE CYCLE MISHAP

Craig DeHater, 17, St. Louis, underwent a series of x-rays at St. Elizabeth Hospital this week following a motorcycle accident on the levee two miles south of the old Chain of Rocks Bridge. He was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Woman hurt in 3-vehicle crash

Miss Rita Black, 21, of 2705 Roosevelt Ave., was injured when her car and the auto of John Hampton, 316 Sunny Shore, collided at 20th and State streets at 2:30 p.m. Monday.

The impact caused Miss Black's auto to skid out of control into a stopped dump truck, driven by Robert Jarrett, 1144 Rhodes St.

Hampton was cited by police for failure to yield the right-of-way at an intersection.

Miss Black, who struck her head on the steering wheel of her car, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted with a headache. X-rays were taken.
